16 REPORTEDLY ESCAPE

OTTAWA (AP)—A Canadian Air Force jet fighter rammed into a Roman Catholic convent for convalescent nuns Tuesday night and about 20 persons were believed to have died in the flaming wreckage.

The dead included the two-man crew of the RCAF CF-100 and a priest, the convent's chaplain. The rest were nuns of the order of the Grey Nuns of the Cross.

-Russ Arms Cut-U.S. Will Continue On Guard

Moscow Cutback Won't Lessen Reds' A-Punch

By ED CREAGH
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson declared Tuesday the United States must keep its guard up despite Russia's announced intention to slash its armed forces by 1,300,000 men.

Dulles expressed the view the cut would not materially reduce the Soviet's power to wage atomic war and might even increase it. Men taken out of uniform could be put to work making nuclear weapons, the secretary of state said.

Secretary of Defense Wilson said the Russian move would not, by itself, "justify any appreciable change in our present military strength." Nor, he said, would it justify changes "in our present programs for cooperating with our Allies in the defense of the Free World."

AF Officials Concur
Similar views were voiced by officials of the Air Force.

Dulles said the United States "welcomes" the Soviet announcement "if this proves to be an evidence of an intent to forego the use of force in international affairs."

He told a questioner that "one way they could demonstrate their intentions" would be to subscribe to the United States proposal for mutual inspection of military might.

Secretary of the Air Force Quartermaster Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, joined Dulles in urging that the Soviet announcement of plans be treated with extreme caution until all the facts are known.

Scattered, Light Showers Forecast

Scattered light showers were expected Wednesday with highs ranging from 65 to 70 in the northeast to the 70s in the southwest, the Weather Bureau predicted.

The forecaster called for cooler in the north and east Thursday under partly cloudy skies.

Temperature-wise, the Wednesday forecast was for a day much like Tuesday, when Lincoln and Lincoln Air Force Base both reported the state high of 67 degrees. North Platte was the coolest spot in the state, recording 34 degrees.

Very light rain showers were reported at Ainsworth Tuesday, Chadron had .01 of an inch and a trace was reported at Valentine, North Platte, Norfolk and Scottsbluff.

18 Injured

CHICAGO (INS)—A Chicago Transit Authority bus and a south suburban line bus crashed on Chicago's South Side causing minor injuries to 18 of the 57 passengers.

Eugene Simpson, 35, the CTA bus driver, was charged with running a red light.

VICTOR ANDERSON

Vic, Sorrell Hold 'Sure Fire' Lead

... In Governor Race

By The Associated Press
Mounting returns from Tuesday's primary election gave Nebraska Republican Governor Victor E. Anderson and Democrat Frank Sorrell of Syracuse unbeatable leads over their opponents.

With returns in from 1,110 of the state's 2,127 precincts, including some incomplete precinct returns in Douglas and Lancaster counties, Anderson was leading Edwina L. Hart, Lincoln plastics company owner, 37,987 to 3,868 and Sorrell, making his third try for the governorship was leading Ted Baum of Scottsbluff 19,787 to 7,841.

Bureau Has Lead
State Senator Dwight Burney of Hartington who has been acting lieutenant governor since the death of Charles Warner, held a slight lead over Carl G. Swanson of Omaha in the Republican contest for the lieutenant governor nomination. Marvin Griswold, Lincoln businessman, was running in third place and Ernest M. Johnson of Chadron was trailing.

Attorney General Clarence S. Beck, seeking his fourth term, was leading Straight Townsend of Scottsbluff about 3 to 1.

In the five man contest for the Republican nomination for railway commissioner, Wayne R. Swanson of Omaha was running in front of the field. He was followed by Fred Sorenson of Omaha, Charles Vogt Jr. of Liberty, Paul Pettygrove of Oxford, incumbent commissioner by appointment, and William R. Milner of Omaha.

In the Democratic lieutenant governorship contest Harry Anderson of Omaha and Stanley D. Long of Grand Island, the 1954 nominee, were running a close race with George E. Cornwell of Omaha trailing.

RR Commission
J. C. McReynolds of Lincoln held a slight lead over R. A. McPherson of Omaha for the Railway Commission nomination. This is McReynolds' fifth try for the commission post.

In the Democratic treasurer race Richard R. Larsen, the 1954 nominee was ahead with Albert L. Geissinger of Omaha, operator of a paint and sporting goods store, and Donald E. Larson, Omaha real estate broker.

Republican Secretary of State Frank Marsh, Republican Auditor Ray C. Johnson and Republican Treasurer Ralph W. Hill were unopposed as was V. C. Havorka, Democratic candidate for Secretary of State.

In the Democratic auditor's race Julius Peterson of Omaha, was running far ahead of Alfred J. Anzalone.

In the Democratic auditor's race Julius Peterson of Omaha, was running far ahead of Alfred J. Anzalone.

Demo Margin Up From 1952

Good Weather Fails To Spur Interest In Nebraska's Primary Contests

By The Associated Press
Republican President Eisenhower and Democratic Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee pocketed default presidential primary victories in Nebraska's primary election Tuesday.

Neither was opposed on his party's ballot and incomplete returns showed no write-in challenges of significance.

But Kefauver and his Democratic compatriots were grabbing a slightly larger percentage of the total vote in the predominantly Republican state than did Democrats in the 1952 primary.

Eisenhower—who carried Ne-fauver by a 64-36 margin on the gin in the general election four years ago—was outdrawing Kefauver by a 66-34 margin on the basis of mounting returns Wednesday.

The political question was the ratio of Republican to Democratic strength in the predominantly Republican state, where GOP balloters outnumbered Democratic voters 65-35 four years ago, and 67-33 in the 1954 primary.

Observers figured any farther revolt against administration agricultural policies, if such a spirit of revolt existed, would show in a switch from Republican to Democratic ballots. Such a party line crossing was permitted in all but the 13 largest cities in the state, where advance registration by party is required.

Unofficial returns from 1,127 of 2,127 precincts gave Eisenhower 45,933; Kefauver 25,577.

Translated into percentages, the republican presidential total outweighed the democratic total about 65-35.

Republican Gov. Victor Anderson, bidding for a second term, surged into a commanding lead over his only adversary, Lincoln businessman Edwin L. Hart. Frank Sorrell, twice before a gubernatorial nominee, was running ahead of the Democratic side.

Incumbent Republican Reps. R. D. Harrison, A. L. Miller and Phil Weaver all were front-runners on the basis of early returns.

Leading in the Second Congressional District—where Rep. Jackson B. Chase (R.) is bowing out after one term—were former Omaha mayor Glenn Cunningham on the Republican ticket, and former State Sen. Joseph Benesch on the Democratic ticket.

On the Democratic side in the Congressional races, Samuel Freeman of Hubbell, a perennial candidate, was leading Clair Callen (D) in the First District. Former State Democratic Chairman Lawrence Brock of Wakefield was leading in the third district, and Carleton Laird of Scottsbluff was unopposed.

Not Binding
Results of the Presidential preference contest will not be binding on the 18 Republican and 12 Democratic national convention delegates also chosen Tuesday. Delegate candidates run unpledged, but nearly all the GOP aspirants had identified themselves as Eisenhower backers, and Kefauver was the front running choice of Democratic bidders expressing a preference.

Nebraska voters, who have given all but one major elective state and national office to Republicans for the last 16 years, also Tuesday named party candidates for four seats in Congress, all Statehouse offices from Governor on down, and a host of lesser offices including judges and legislators.

Voting appeared to have been light after a dull campaign, although the number of names on the fat ballots had set a recent year record high.

There was generally sluggish voting despite pleasantly warm and dry weather. Ballots were fat with a host of state and local candidates, but voter interest seemed slim.

The voting trend gave backing to Secretary of State Frank Marsh' prediction of a 250,000 turnout—the smallest peacetime presidential-year primary vote since 18.

Carleton Laird was unopposed in the Fourth District.

man Phil Weaver leading Richard W. Johnson of Fairbury 10,709 to 4,095.

In the Third District, Rep. R. D. Harrison had more than double the total of his nearest opponent in returns from 237 of 496 precincts. The totals were: Harrison 4,216, Merle A. Haynes 1,658, Lester Anderson 1,419, E. A. Carlson 839.

In the Fourth District the durable A. L. Miller had 5,543 to 940 for Dr. Howard Eby of St. Paul in returns from 186 precincts of 637.

Cunningham Ahead
In the Second District Cunningham stayed ahead in the early tabulating, but there was some shuffling in the next lower places.

With returns in from 220 of 332 precincts, Cunningham had a total of 4,865 City Commissioner Warren R. Swigart had 3,236, Paul Kruger of Fort Calhoun had 2,660, William H. Thomas of Omaha had 1,693, and Tom P. Epsen had 565.

A short time earlier Kruger had been running ahead of Swigart.

On the Democratic side of the ballot, the races were tighter.

In the First District 346 of 641 precincts gave the veteran Samuel Freeman 4,169 to 3,607 for State Sen. Clair Callen.

In the Second District where 222 of 332 precincts were in former State Senator Joseph V. Benesch was ahead with 3,246 and TV News commentator Phil Allen was in second place with 2,932. Third was Mabel Gillespie with 2,765. Clayton Shroat with 1,616 and last was Emmet McArdle with 1,565.

The Third District race, the one which many observers had their eye on, showed former State Democratic Chairman Lawrence Brock of Wakefield holding first place. With 255 of 497 precincts counted, Brock had 2,626, Ernest M. Luther the 1954 nominee was second with 1,577 and Jesse Tetter of Creighton had 1,259.

Carleton Laird was unopposed in the Fourth District.

Adlai And Estes Match Views On Same Stage

... Battle For Oregon Writeins

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) matched their political views on the same platform Tuesday night for the first time in their campaign for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination.

They are competing for write-in votes in the Oregon presidential preference primary next Friday. The winner will get the backing of 16 delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

They covered much the same ground in separate talks prepared for delivery at a joint Democratic rally on the University of Oregon's basketball court.

"One of the next president's first tasks will be to recapture for America the respect of other nations. We must use the methods of peace in dealing with other nations and not depend on military alone or on threats," said Kefauver.

Stevenson accused the Republicans of "squandering a great part of the national good will built up abroad over the years by the Democrats" and added, "We must never forget that our real goal is not to build a military alliance but to remove the necessity for it. We must find a workable basis for universal disarmament."

No Debate
Campaign sponsors had said in advance it would be no debate, asserting the two were in fundamental agreement.

"We have no choice but to keep ourselves strong, but we must be ready, willing and able to prepare our economy for peacetime existence."

Graham Still Balks At Appeal; Execution Set For August

His Attorney Is Told To Go To High Court

... By Trial Judge

DENVER (AP) — John Gilbert Graham, convicted of committing murder by blowing up an airliner, lost ground Tuesday in his stubborn demand that he be executed as soon as possible.

"I don't want any part" of an appeal declared the stolid Graham before the judge who sentenced him to die in Colorado's gas chamber during the week of Aug. 26 for dynamiting an airliner whose 43 passengers were killed.

But Judge Joseph M. McDonald, who had sentenced him, ordered the court appointed attorneys to ask the Colorado Supreme Court what should be done.

Unprecedented This order, unprecedented in Colorado court history, "amounts to an appeal for all practical purposes," said a defense attorney. Court attaches said the papers would be ready for filing in a few days. If the Supreme Court so orders jurisdiction, then it could order an appeal and issue a stay of execution. If not, then the execution would go ahead as scheduled.

Graham had been convicted of murder for the death of his mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King, one of those who died in the explosion and flaming crash of a United Airlines plane near Longmont, Colo., last Nov. 1.

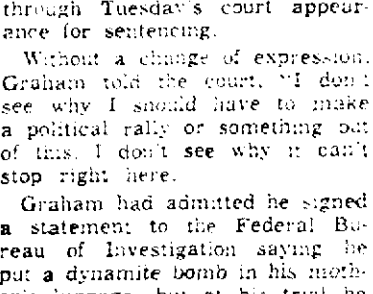

"I accept the verdict of the jury and desire that it be carried out with convenient speed," Graham said after his conviction 10 days ago and he stuck to that line all

Results in the non-political races in Tuesday's primary election contained a number of surprises, including a large-than-expected margin of victory for Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme for the 20th district Legislative seat.

A former member of the Lincoln City Council, Mrs. Orme ran up a total of 4,000 votes as compared to the 1,819 total which nominated Fred M. Waggoner to oppose her in the general election.

Russell R. Strain Jr., who challenged the legality of Mrs. Orme's filing, ran fourth with 783 votes. Third place went to Burkett Van Kirk with 853 votes.

In another mild surprise, attorney Richard O. Johnson captured first place with 7,479 votes in his bid for nomination as Municipal Court judge. Second place was taken by incumbent Judge John Jacobson with 6,618 votes.

Nominated with Johnson and Jacobson to run in the general election were Edwin F. Dosek with 5,793 votes and Emory P. Burnett with 3,690 votes.

Attorney Leo N. Bartunek was eliminated from the court race with 3,150 votes.

In the 18th legislative district, Orin H. Liebers with 2,730 votes and Chris Kuhner with 1,534 votes were nominated to battle it out in the general election for that seat.

Stanley L. Portishe showed surprising strength in the 19th district race for the Legislature as he took first place honors with 916 votes. He will be opposed in the general by Thomas H. Adams who ran second with 833 votes.

Steelmen Make 22 Demands

...In Contract Plans

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steel Workers Wage Policy Committee Tuesday handed union negotiators a draft of 22 demands to be made on a busy, profit-making steel industry in 1956 contract bargaining.

The demands touch on almost every phase of the existing contract and among other things seek a "substantial" wage increase, premium pay for Saturday and Sunday work, and supplemental unemployment benefits.

USW President David J. McDonald said the program is "reasonable" in view of the steel industry's present profit record. Most of the big basic producers reported record earnings for the first quarter of the year.

Secret Session
The 170-member Wage Policy Committee met in secret session for two days to formalize the demands. The committee did not put a dollar and cents value on the package.

The demands will be presented to 172 basic steel firms and iron ore mining companies whose contracts expire at midnight June 30. The union would be free to strike then if agreements are not reached.

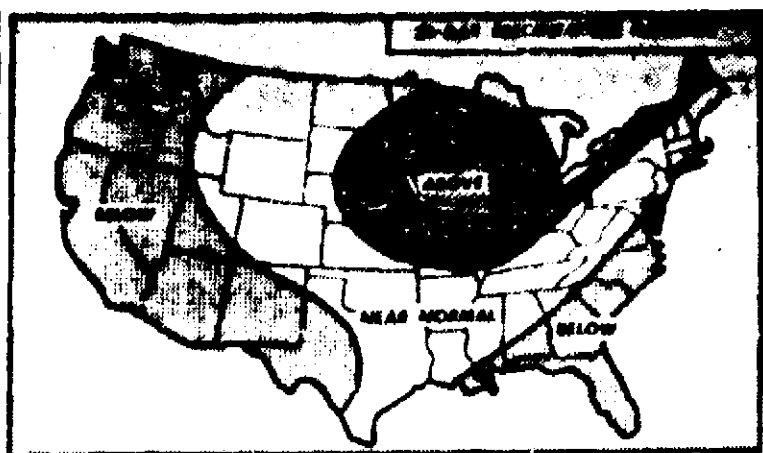

McDonald said the issues were discussed "exuberantly" and "approved unanimously." He added:

"These are reasonable contract proposals. I hope the companies with whom we negotiate will cooperate with us in bringing about an early date new labor contracts."

Goodrich Leading In Fillmore Race

Lincoln Star Special
GENEVA, Neb. — With two out of three precincts reporting, Willard Goodrich, incumbent, was leading his opponent Clyde Jacobson 71 to 55 for nomination as Republican candidate for Fillmore County supervisor, District 2. Alfred J. Quick, Democratic candidate, for the same post, had no opposition.

Norman Wright, incumbent, won the Republican nomination for county supervisor District 6. He will oppose Herman Kleen, Democrat, in the November election. Guy A. Hamilton, incumbent, was trailing his opponent Ray L. Celler 437 to 506 in the race for county judge with 15 out of 21 precincts reporting.

Gov. Long Avoids Talk Of Presidential Politics

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long, 60, pledged in his inaugural speech Tuesday Louisiana will get "a square deal" and said there may be some new taxes.

The brother of the late Sen. Huey P. Long outdid Huey by becoming the first governor in state history to serve three times.

Although National Democratic Chairman Paul Butler was an honored guest at the inauguration, Long avoided any mention of presidential politics.

Also, he skipped any talk on the ever-present segregation issue. He is a moderate on that subject.

Long is still warm toward Adlai Stevenson, whom he supported in 1952. But he hasn't committed himself.

Butler said he came here "because the Democratic National committee feels the inauguration of Gov. Long marks the resurgence of loyal Democrats, not only in Louisiana, but in the South."

Lincoln Star Special

DAVID CITY, Neb. — In the lone contest on the Butler County ticket in Tuesday's primary election, J. L. Vavrina, incumbent, led his opponents for nomination as the Democratic candidate for county supervisor, sixth district.

Vavrina polled 266 votes, compared with 62 votes for Albin Soukup and 186 for Joseph Rolenc.

There were no candidates on the Republican ticket for county supervisor, sixth district.

Plane Crash Kills Eight

...Buried In Mud

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Six executives of a Chicago business firm and two crew members were killed Tuesday when a twin-engine company plane crashed on an Indiana farm while attempting an emergency landing.

The plane literally buried itself in muddy land. Removal of the bodies took almost two hours.

No Hint of Trouble
Eleven minutes out of Louisville's Standiford Field, the pilot made a routine radio contact with the tower, giving no indication of trouble.

A private pilot had telephoned police before the crash that a plane was in trouble and circling for an emergency landing.

The Crane Co. of Chicago identified the victims as:

J. A. McMurry, director of branches.

J. A. Dwyer, vice president.

George L. Erwin, vice president.

Charles E. Townner, assistant to the vice president in charge of heating.

G. G. Lindholm, a departmental manager.

Robert Robinette, copilot.

A light rain was falling but visibility was good.

Witnesses said there was a "terrible explosion" when the plane hit. There was no fire.

Margaret, Prince Christian Hinted Near Engagement

LONDON (Wednesday) (AP) — The Daily Express quoted German-born prince Christian of Hanover today as saying "I can neither confirm nor deny" rumors that he and Britain's Princess Margaret will announce their engagement. They are distant cousins, both descended from Queen Victoria.

A Buckingham Palace spokesman declined any comment. This is standard procedure in matters involving the private affairs of the royal family.

The Daily Mail also took note of the engagement rumors but said it "understands there is no truth in these reports."

Christian, 35, is a brother of Greece's Queen Frederika and a great-great grandson of Queen Victoria.

Loving Good Black Earth

Pollster Gallup reports that the Eisenhower billion-dollar soil bank program is likely to meet a lukewarm reception from the average midwestern farmer.

First of all, Gallup claims, the farmer doesn't understand the soil bank plan. It never has been explained to him. He tends to think of it as another attempt by government to tell him what to do. Secondly, Gallup says, the administration has taken an unrealistic point of view about the amount of money the midwestern farmer thinks is fair to take his land out of production. The average corn grower expects $60 an acre to take good land out of production, considerably more than Brother Benson, and over him, Ike are willing to pay. It takes three paragraphs, however, and a couple of hundred words from Brother Gallup to really get down to business, and then apparently as an afterthought. "In addition, the farmer is inherently opposed to taking lands out of production," Gallup says. And who did everything under the sun to land farm resentment against taking land out of production if it were not Republican leadership? All through the Roosevelt years, the burden of the Republican song was the unfairness of taking land out of production. And now, in the good old vernacular, chickens have come home to roost.

There is a little bit more, however, than a political origin for this feeling of hostility to taking land out of production. There is a swelling pride in the breast of any real farmer when he looks over his fields of wheat turning yellow in advance of the harvest or in the coolness of the early morning experiences the satisfaction provided by lush sturdy fields of corn. Important to the dollar is, there is something more that holds the farmer to his land. We can describe it as love for good black earth or by any other words we choose, but it is real and its roots go deep.

Back To Communism

Five young seamen, first interned by the Nationalist Chinese, later seeking asylum in the United States, have returned to Communist Russia.

Their relatively brief experience with life in the United States did not convince them that here would be the best place to spend the rest of their days. In some manner their zest for our type of free life died. They walked away from it. They chose to return to their people despite the uncertainty of whether the return would result in welcome or punishment.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

This newspaper believes wholeheartedly in the right of dissent not only as one of the most valuable but one of the most cherished of American freedoms. It has been the blessed opportunity for the free, uncurbed exchange of conflicting ideas that has given America an unsurpassed vitality and virility as a leader in the world of free men. Thanks to this through the years man discovered and explored the path to self government. It is with pride and the deepest satisfaction, then, that this paper welcomes the fine statement by Chancellor Cliff Hardin of the University of Nebraska on the question of academic freedom on the campus of the state's great educational institution.

Of course there has been no gap nor curb upon freedom of discussion on the university campus. Anyone who has been reading with any measure of thoughtfulness, recent issues of the university publication, must have been impressed with the generosity, forbearance and patience of the administration under what, in this chair, appeared at times to be a loose approach to discussion of a highly controversial character. We thought Prof. Frederick Beutel performed a genuine service in pointing out that the fullness of discussion carried on in The Nebraskan was a full complete answer to charges that academic freedom was being infringed upon. Dr. Hardin's statement goes further in clarifying the atmosphere. Under university rules, he points out, two standing committees elected by the University Senate (faculty members) are provided for the express purpose of receiving complaints which bear upon academic freedom and intra-institutional relationships. "My grave concern over the repeated assertions regarding the administration's attitudes and actions prompted me to consult with the members of both of these committees: the Committee on Academic Privilege, and the Liaison Committee. The purpose of my inquiry was to learn whether either of these faculty agencies or any of their members had received complaints of a nature similar to those reported as widespread by The Nebraskan. Neither committee or any of the members had received any such complaint."

There it is in plain, simple, understandable language. Those words should be read most thoughtfully by any friend of the University of Nebraska. Here are two committees created by the university faculty itself for the specific purpose of receiving complaints relative to infringement upon academic privilege and upon intra-institutional relationships. In spite of widespread charges, neither committee nor any member of either committee has received a complaint.

A paragraph equally refreshing, reassuring and comforting concludes Chancellor Hardin's statement on academic freedom. Again, the thoughtful Nebraskan is invited to read it word by word and take inspiration from it. This is the paragraph: "On our campus, our aim is not merely of divergent opinions. Our aim is and should be to welcome them. The free exchange of ideas is essential to the good health of this or any other university. Never in my opinion, are the best interests of the university served by the violation of academic freedom. If there is any place within our society where conflicting ideas and opinions must be expressed, it is on our university campuses. The only limitation—if limitations there be—are those already expressed in our own university policy: The 'responsibilities of citizenship' and the 'precepts of scholarship and faithful performance of other academic responsibilities.'" What more is there to be said by those who cherish and actually understand freedom? If there is to be freedom, we submit, there of necessity must be a gifted intuitive sense of individual responsibility. We who would be free, must fashion our own pattern of common sense and responsibility to all of our fellow men. We would not want to live in a world where there is a denial of the free exchange and the free expression of ideas. Which to us simply adds one other ingredient to a complex modern world of swift change and uncurbed communication.

That is man's faith in each other—men's faith in the decent purposes of each other, although granted that at times those purposes conflict with their own staidly held ideas. But if we are to build—if we're to advance—if we are to enjoy a better society here in America, then it goes without saying that we must extend to each other some semblance of faith. Without faith, we are lost. With faith, we accomplish miracles in understanding and progress.

DREW PEARSON

Indonesia Chief Visitor To USA

WASHINGTON — The welcome accorded foreign dignitaries as they drive down elm-shaded Constitution Avenue was never more important than today when President Eisenhower receives the president of the youngest but third largest republic in the world—Soekarno of Indonesia.

President Soekarno has been a bit nervous about this trip, just as his country has been nervous about the precarious political path it has trod in these days when every eastern nation is besieged and beleaguered by Communism.

It was the U.S.A., as he and other Indonesians well remember, which played such a large part in winning independence for the young republic. The battle cries that inspired the Indonesian revolution against the long colonial rule of the Dutch were similar to those of 1776. Indonesian patriots even featured pictures of George Washington and Thomas Jefferson on banners and postage stamps.

The final coup de grace in winning Indonesian independence occurred when Matt Fox, New York motion picture executive and friend of Indonesia, together with Joseph K. Burkin of Washington, moved to cut off Marshall plan funds to the Dutch if those funds were used in the war against Indonesia. Since then, Burkin has sometimes been called by Indonesians "The American father of Indonesian independence." He shares paternity with Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine, now retired, who circulated the Senate petition to cut off Dutch funds. That's part of the story behind President Eisenhower's gesture in sending his personal plane all the way to Hawaii this week to bring the president of one of the key republics of the Far East to Washington.

INDONESIAN MERRY-GO-ROUND

Indonesia is a major oil source, the second producer of tin in the world and first in the production of rubber, quinine and black pepper — Indonesia has a multi-party political system and a constitution guaranteeing freedom of speech, press, religion and equal rights for men and women of all races. The major parties are Moslem, Nationalist, Socialist, Catholic and Labor. Soekarno (he doesn't use a formal first name) is an anti-Communist independent. A former engineer, 54-years old, he was jailed several times by the Dutch for "revolutionary" activity. Under the Dutch, his country had a shocking death and illiteracy rate, but Soekarno has reduced both to a political progressive. Soekarno claims to be the first president of a free and democratic Indonesia. He is a nationalist, a democrat and a socialist. Soekarno sums it up: "The belief in God and true choice of religion affirms the Democratic principle of freedom of worship. Democracy gains strength and meaning when it is coupled with social justice in economic matters. These two, in turn, are incomplete without a humanitarian regard for the rights and interests of one's fellow man."

Overseas Air Rate Cut Eyed

WASHINGTON — The rush of American tourists going abroad is already on a volume, both for the number of individuals and for the dollars they spend, that will set a new record this year. Steamships are booked solid into the late summer and it is becoming difficult to get an airplane reservation.

What is happening is that a sector of the public that would never have dreamed of going to Europe or South America today is being persuaded by lower fares, the seductive travel ads and the quick crossing by plane to venture for the first time out of the country.

In 1929, the peak travel year before World War II, 517,000 Americans went overseas and spent $683,000,000.

In 1954, the latest full year for which there are estimates, the number was 912,000, spending $1,330,000,000. But on the basis of the 1955 year estimate available for $55,000,000—the number of individuals was well over a million and the money spent $1,400,000,000. Thus the total has doubled since 1929, while the population was increasing by roughly one-third.

But there are indications that the surface has hardly been scratched and that with lower fares and more facilities, the overseas tourist trade will double and perhaps even double again within a decade.

The other day North American Airlines, which pioneered domestic air coach service and has been struggling to get a foot in the door for scheduled air against non-schedule service, applied to the Civil Aeronautics Board for a permit to fly from Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York to Luxembourg for a one-way tourist fare of $145 to $155.

The start this caused the air industry can be imagined in view of the fact that the one-way tourist fare to Paris is now $310. Not long afterward, both Trans World Airlines and Pan American World Airways announced they would ask the International Air Transport Association to sanction lowered fares for certain types of service.

Luxembourg, which has not had direct service from America, is delighted at the prospect and the government has now proposed that a bilateral agreement be negotiated which would permit a Luxembourg airline to come to the United States. Picturesque Luxembourg, central to most capitals, has one of the best airports in Europe.

The key to overseas fares is held by the International Air Transport Association, to which the airlines of every country belong. Director general of IATA is Sir William Percival Hildreth. A witness recently before a House subcommittee looking into the cartel-monopoly aspects of air rate-making, Sir William was charming, affable but somewhat evasive.

He was asked why it is possible to fly air coach from New York to Los Angeles for $250 in 1955, while the New York Paris flight about 3,200 miles, costs $310. The following exchange occurred with Representative James M. Quigley, Democrat of Pennsylvania.

Sir William: The answer is, that the terrific development here, the expertness, has produced a wonderful thing. I hope we can match it, but give us a chance.

But members of the House committee were not satisfied with Sir William's explanation that rates had to be kept high for the benefit of the Swiss, Swedes, Spanish, Italians and French.

Nor were senators interrogating members of the Civil Aeronautics Board satisfied with their replies at an appropriation hearing.

Senator Margaret Chase Smith, Republican of Maine, wanted to know why there should be so many obstacles in the way of granting North America's application to fly at a reduced rate to Luxembourg. You seem, she remarked after listening to CAB members, to be more interested in the airline companies than in the traveling public. Senator Edward Thye, Republican of Minnesota wanted to know why it should cost more than twice as much to fly over water as over land.

The pressure to reduce fares both on routes at home and overseas will become irresistible in view of fairly conclusive evidence that it is not the cost factor which keeps them where they are today.

Despite the growth of the past decade, something like a revolution in travel is in sight. A new type of steamship is being designed that will provide minimum service for a five or six day crossing to Europe at a one-way cost that may be as low as $125 to $140. The grand tour to Europe is no longer for the privileged few of wealth. It is in sight for literally millions of Americans.

A Parallel

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: As a physicist I should not write about how an agricultural college should be handled. But I must say I have a certain familiarity with the kind of controversy which led to Clyde Mitchell's demotion. It brought me back to my student days and it gave me a terrific respect for my father (even though youngsters often think of their dad's views pretty critically). He was the regent of our state agricultural college in Germany and appointed as director Dr. F. Aeroboe, a brilliant man who was very much like Clyde Mitchell. We all learned a great deal from Aeroboe, and I attended his classes when later he taught (until 1933) at the University of Berlin in pre-Nazi Germany.

The first thing I learned was that it is a prime function of a college of agriculture to discuss and examine farm policy, and that of course involves controversy. A school which shies away from that becomes stagnant and useless. And it deprives its students of the pep and insight which come from a respect for the free enterprise of ideas, as Don Moore called it.

The next thing I learned from Aeroboe was that farm policy and economics should be directed towards the stability of the economy of the independent farmer. Once he becomes the unprotected prey to small business fluctuations, we are losing one of the soundest and most valuable segments of our population.

And last but not least, I learned that a good agricultural policy can have enormous constructive influence on international relations. The basic answer to farm surpluses is to use them to step into acute famine areas. Billions spent on that in a well-planned program makes sense. Peace and international understanding grow on charity and humility, on pity with the starving, not on pride about suicidal H-bombs.

Mitchell Demotion

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: M. S. Daily asks: "Tell us why Dr. Mitchell must be demoted." That's easy, Dr. Mitchell has the right of every American to shoot off his mouth. But if he couldn't or wouldn't do the job of chairman and the university authorities decided to replace him, there is no reason why he shouldn't be relieved of administrative duties. He hasn't been fired as a professor.

Great Document

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: A widespread, deep-seated, and growing attack is being made on the Constitution of the United States.

The mischievous Bricker Amendment is one of the most dangerous and persistent. Mr. Eisenhower has said that passage of this amendment would make the management of foreign affairs by the President practically impossible.

We also have a full-blown campaign of hostility aimed at the Supreme Court of the United States. The Deep South is in full cry against the court because of the anti-segregation decision. Even Jimmy Byrnes, a one-time member of the court, joins the chorus. The oil and gas interests still hurt because of the court decision in the Tidelands case. An amendment is being formulated to clip the wings of our great court.

We might mention the well-financed and calculated campaign against the income tax amendment.

Now, we have had many amend-

Radford Sees Reds In Cold War Lead

WASHINGTON — Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has lent his great prestige to those who contend that the Russians are beating the United States on the political and diplomatic fronts of the cold war.

The admiral expressed satisfaction with the country's military posture. He said that since 1950 we had generated a very great military strength which had prevented the spread of the Korean war and an attack on the United States. But he added:

"It is in the political and diplomatic field that we have to worry. The new Russian approach, their ability to talk sweet and disarm criticism, poses new problems for us in critical areas. There our troubles are greater than in the military field."

Answering a question by Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, he said he knew of no promise of aid to any nation made by the Soviet Union that it did not keep. He said he hoped the Russians would run into trouble as they expanded their promises, but he agreed with Humphrey that it would be an "unwise assumption" to suggest that they couldn't deliver on their commitments.

More reporters than spectators were in the caucus room when Foreign Relations Committee senators questioned the nation's top military man and his civilian boss, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson. At issue is the administration's expanded foreign aid bill of $4.9 billion.

BOB CONSIDINE

Side Concerns Stay Bomb Blast

ABOARD USS MT. MCKINLEY (Delayed)—More than 81,000 words of copy were sent from this communications ship in the first seven days of its occupancy by the 15 news media men assigned to cover the first disposable American H-bomb. Most of the stuff was sent by the nine newspapermen aboard, and all of it went at the average rate of 12 cents a word. Total cost $10,000.

It could have been said for 24 cents: "No bomb."

The little knot of men burdened with the task of deciding when a bomb can be touched off and when it cannot had to take many serious matters into consideration as the days and delays dragged on.

They knew of all the degrees of impatience around them. The crew of the McKinley, for example, had been promised they'd be back at their home base of San Diego for long shore leaves some weeks ago, then the ship was reassigned to this duty. The boys were promised that it would be a matter of a few days. Then there were the thousands of men working the barren and dusty coral islands: the construction crews, the scientists and technicians who set the supersensitive instrumentation that is flung over thousands of square miles of sea and coral. They wanted done with it, and so did the crew of the drop plane. And last but not least there was the matter of the news, radio and TV people recording each delay—which, no matter how discreetly phrased or photographed, probably caused millions of Americans to lose interest in an experiment directly involved with the survival of the free world.

On the other hand there were two factors which readily took precedence over impatience and growing indifference. These two factors were our relations with the Asiatic world and our allergy toward hurting even people whose cries we could censor if we were that type of power. A handful of Marshallise, for example.

There is no doubt that we lost face in Japan, India and elsewhere because of the unhappy events that followed the touching off of our surface H-shot March 1, 1954. Our people unquestionably took many more pangs than the Russians take in their experiments, yet this device (it could not be called a bomb because it was not portable) probably yielded twice its expected power.

A wave of anti-American sentiment swept the Asiatic world, undoing the work of years and the expenditure of breathtaking sums of taxpayers' money. Russian propagandists had a field day, neglecting to mention, of course, that the Reds set off their own nuclear weapons with about as much concern for the wellbeing of people in the way of the radioactive cloud as they have for the athlete's foot situation in Lower Siobovia.

Ultimate Winners

The experts have gathered in Chicago to talk about food preservation by irradiation—a matter of firing gamma rays into substances to kill or immobilize the forces of decay. The new practice has yet to solve all of its problems.

One of them is that of all the organism man is the one most subject to damage while enzymes and bacteria which attend to the business of food spoilage are the least. In terms of "reps" the scientists' measuring unit of Roentgen equivalent physical—or gamma ray strength—it takes only 400 of them to prepare a man for the hereafter. It takes 25,000 of them to finish off an insect, 2,000,000 of them to drop a bacteria in its tracks. And it takes 8,000,000 or more to convince an enzyme that it ought to go out of business.

The present state of affairs is that it is possible to hit food hard enough to keep it indefinitely. The main trouble in that event is that there would be precious few people around to eat it.

The problem will get solved some way, but while the scientists are working on it, we non-scientists can reflect that if we get into an all-out H-bomb war, no one will win it but the insects, the bacteria and the enzymes.

Now We Shall See

One cannot help being stirred by the brave adventure of Wanderly Camargo. The 20-year-old Brazilian twice risked his life as a stow-away on an airliner and succeeded in getting to the United States.

In a second run of luck he encountered a sponsor, a California mother, a Brazilian herself, who took him under her wing and now he can remain in this country. He has a home and a job.

It will be interesting now to see what story the future will tell of this intrepid lad. Was he just engaged in an adventure? Did he seek escape from a poor order of life in order to broaden his horizons and increase his opportunities? If it was the latter, then truly he has risen far above the average in overcoming handicaps and will live as a glowing example. But if it was an adventure his story will go down as just another of many slightly more interesting than the mine run.

He's Finished

Gene Autry is going off the air. He and his singing cowpokes have been a household institution now for almost a generation. They will be greatly missed and his going was mighty unexpected. None of us realized how bad the cattle business has become under the present farm program. If a fellow like Autry can't make it, no one can.

Coe Swears 'Never A Spy'

... Ex-Federal Employee Won't Say Whether He's Communist

WASHINGTON — Virginia Frank Coe surprised the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Tuesday by casting aside his Fifth Amendment protection and swearing he never was a spy.

Britain Sets Off Australia A-Blast

LONDON (Wednesday) — The Supply Ministry announced that an "atomic device was successfully exploded" today by British scientists in the Monte Bello Islands off west Australia.

Six Drowned

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia — British planes reported that six persons were killed in a crash landing by heavy fog in a field near the town of Belgrade. The last of the dead was a woman who was being held. The woman's body also was swept away.

In doing that, he relied on Fifth Amendment protection after the subcommittee overruled his plea of the First Amendment's free speech guarantee.

When Coe last appeared before the subcommittee in 1952, he invoked Fifth Amendment protection and refused to say whether he was a member of a Soviet espionage ring. A few days later Coe

NPPS Seeks Support For Consolidation

The Nebraska Public Power System Tuesday asked the support of southeast Nebraska rural power districts for its projected consolidation.

The Lincoln conference was the third of a series in which NPPS acquainted one of its major customers — the REAs — with the details of the merger which would terminate the present association of the Platte Valley Power and Irrigation district and the Loup Public Power and Irrigation by contract supplying it with one all inclusive district.

Earlier regional meetings of the same nature were held at Lexington and Norfolk. The Lexington meeting included the Cornhusker, Butler, Seward, and Eastern Nebraska, Polk and Norris Rural Electrification districts.

Dewey DeBoer, manager of the NPPS, asked the REAs for resolutions of approval.

He told them that full consolidation would make possible a more streamlined and economical management. It would improve NPPS' base for cheaper and more abundant credit offer it an opportunity for a bigger share of the electric dollar and give them assurance of the continuation of Nebraska electric service on terms of abundant, low cost power.

DeBoer was joined in advocating the consolidation by Jack Howell, president of the Loup district, Edd Kelly, manager of the Loup district and Gerald Gentleman, manager of the Platte Valley Power and Irrigation district.

Coe told the subcommittee he now is anxious to answer all questions about espionage.

He accused the subcommittee of attempting "to keep alive the stale and discredited charges" of Miss Bentley, a self-described former courier for a Soviet spy ring.

"I wish to drop the protection of the Fifth Amendment and to state for the record I was never a spy, I am convinced that Harry White was not a spy, and that any notion to the contrary is unthinkable and I am also convinced that none of the other persons named by Miss Bentley were spies," Coe said.

Afro-Asia Bloc To Ask Special Assembly Meet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) — The influential Afro-Asian United Nations' bloc decided informally Tuesday to ask for a special session of the General Assembly on the question of Algeria.

Members of the group reached agreement at a private session to request their home governments to act at the UN to request a special session of the 76-nation global forum.

The Algerian question was placed on the agenda of the 1955 Assembly but was withdrawn after the French delegation walked out of the session. France maintained the question is a domestic matter and outside UN jurisdiction.

At least 39 out of the 76 U.N. member states must agree to the summoning of a special assembly session before one can be convened.

Members of the bloc expressed confidence they can muster enough votes for a session despite anticipated bitter French opposition.

The Afro-Asian group main aim is that UN action is required to stop the bloody fighting between Algerian rebels and French troops in the huge North African territory.

Annual 'Slet' For Sokols Set During June

CRETE, Neb. — Crete Sokols, both men and ladies' units, will be hosts to the gymnastic exhibition at Tuxedo Park, Crete, June 9 and 10.

Units from Crete, Wilber, Omaha, South Omaha and Cedar Rapids, Iowa, will participate in the athletic events.

Following the "Slet" meaning the flocking together of Sokols or "Falcons," a five day course for trainers will also be held at Crete.

A parade and various gymnastic formations and exhibitions will be staged during the event. A social dance will also be held.

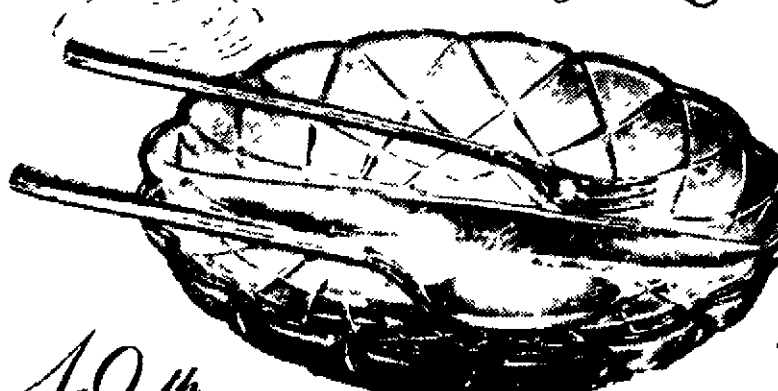

Simon Rokusek and Frank J. Kopecky, officers of the Western District with headquarters in Omaha have been in Crete conferring with local leaders and trainers on initial preparations for the event.

Vaccine Released

WASHINGTON (INS) — The government Tuesday released 2,062,305 doses of Salk polio vaccine for use by private doctors or in mass inoculation programs.

The vaccine, produced by the Eli Lilly Company of Indianapolis, makes a total of 56,431,038 doses released since the program began in the spring of 1953.

Mystery Of Missing Scotts One Of Deepest In Los Angeles History

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The puzzling case of the vanishing Scotts Tuesday took its place as one of the most intriguing police stories in this city's history.

Just a year ago Wednesday Mrs. Evelyn T. Scott, 63, a wealthy, attractive widow with a keen enjoyment of the social whirl, dropped from sight.

Tuesday her husband, L. Ewing Scott, 59, a tall, distinguished investment counselor, was listed officially as missing when he failed to appear for arraignment on charges connected with his wife's disappearance.

State Employment Service Has Testing Program For Students Seeking Jobs

Lincoln area students who desire summer or permanent employment are being aided by the Lincoln office of the State Employment Service.

In connection with a nationwide program, using United States Department of Labor tests, the Lincoln office has administered tests to hundreds of interested students in the area.

The local program, working in conjunction with school counselors, has reached 33 high schools in five counties.

Five Lincoln high schools have participated.

Employers Urged

Employers in the area are urged to participate in the program by consulting with the Employment Office and checking the results of tests given to student applicants.

According to Glenn H. Jones, manager of the Lincoln office, there is a definite trend among employers toward recognizing the value of these tests.

Some employers in the Lincoln area accept only test-selected applicants, he said.

R. W. Korns of the Lincoln office is the supervisor of the local testing program.

Battery Of Tests

A battery of general aptitude tests is administered to students to determine their abilities in relation to the selection of various vocations.

Other tests are given to girls wanting office or clerical employment.

According to Korns, any student interested in employment and any employer who wishes to obtain information concerning the program should contact him at the local office at 905 O.

Mother Remains On Serious List

OMAHA (AP)—Mrs. Louise Kramer, 36, mother of 13 burned in an explosion as she poured kerosene on a kitchen fire, remained on the serious list at University Hospital Tuesday.

The York woman received burns over 70 per cent of her body.

Decision Hailed

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslavia's official press hailed the Russian decision to cut its armed forces. It said this was proof of Russian readiness to contribute to further lessening of international tension.

A manhunt spreading across the nation and into Mexico has been launched for Scott.

Although no one has seen Mrs. Scott for a year now, her disappearance did not come to public attention until two months ago when a document was filed in Superior Court.

It was a petition entered by Mrs. Scott's brother, E. Raymond Throsby, asking that he be appointed trustee of his sister's estate, estimated at $600,000. Buried in the legal terminology was the kernel of mystery that has since sprouted so vigorously.

His sister's absence, said Throsby, had not been satisfactorily explained by Scott.

Filing of the petition touched off an investigation that disclosed, among other things, that Scott has offered several different explanations of what happened to his wife.

To police, he said that his wife was given to frequent and unexplained absences and that was why he did not become alarmed when she suddenly vanished from their $75,000 home on May 16, 1955, after sending him on a shopping trip.

He still loves her and hopes she will return, he told them.

But friends of the popular, party-loving Mrs. Scott informed police that they had been told she had fallen ill and been placed in a sanitarium, that she had become an alcoholic, or that she had left him after a family fight, police learned.

In fact it was her friends, who knew Mrs. Scott as a gay, healthy, cultured woman and were thus unwilling to credit Scott's stories of her failing health and heavy drinking habits, who many brought her disappearance to the attention of authorities. Scott never did file a missing-person report.

Scott vanished shortly after the county grand jury indicted him on 13 counts of forgery and grand theft based on his handling of his missing wife's estate. The investigation is continuing with more witnesses to be examined May 23.

Police have found Mrs. Scott's eyeglasses and a set of her dentures buried in back of her Bel Air home. And a car belonging to Scott was found abandoned May 5 with a bullet hole in the windshield.

And so the puzzle grows.

Trustee

It was a petition entered by Mrs. Scott's brother, E. Raymond Throsby, asking that he be appointed trustee of his sister's estate, estimated at $600,000. Buried in the legal terminology was the kernel of mystery that has since sprouted so vigorously.

His sister's absence, said Throsby, had not been satisfactorily explained by Scott.

Harriman Insists He's Still 'Inactive' Candidate

SPOKANE, Wash., (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, acting very much like a candidate, flew into Spokane Tuesday and insisted "there has been no change in my status" regarding the Democratic presidential nomination. He refers to himself as an "inactive" candidate.

Harriman arrived from Butte, Mont., in a chartered plane and was greeted at the airport by banner-carrying Democrats who paraded him through town in a two-toned convertible. A sign which read "We Want Harriman" signs.

He stepped from the plane and read a brief statement he had written out in longhand in answer to published reports that he had announced he was "definitely a candidate" during a news conference at Missoula, Mont.

"I have made no announcement on this trip to change in any way my status as a candidate," he said. "On this trip, I have been making vigorous speeches in support of Democrats and in criticism of the Eisenhower Administration. He Appreciates It."

"All that has happened is that at Cody, Wyo., some delegates said they would join the New York delegation to support me at the convention. I said I appreciated that."

Asked if that didn't mean he was ending his self-described "inactive" role, Harriman insisted his status was unchanged. He put it this way:

"Six months ago the New York Democratic party decided to present my name to the national convention the same way it did in 1952."

Woodmen of the World Now Offers FREE TREATMENT NEAR HOME for members afflicted with pulmonary tuberculosis

In step with modern medicine Woodmen of the World has devised a new, better plan for treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis. As new members with a year or more of membership will now receive free treatment at nationally recognized hospitals near their homes, or at out-patients if this is authorized.

Since 1923, the Society has provided free treatment to more than 4,900 members or its own hospital, which was closed May 1 in favor of the new plan. The new setup, adopted after thorough study offers greater advantages.

Climate is not now considered a major factor in TB treatment. The National Tuberculosis Association says: "The best place for most patients to go for treatment is the hospital near home." The Society thus keeps pace with modern medicine with greater benefit to its members.

There are many other fraternal benefits enjoyed by Woodmen along with the unexcelled life insurance protection the Society provides at cost. Ask a representative listed below to help you select the Woodmen life insurance certificate that best meets your needs.

Ag Chief Benson Sets '57 Wheat Allotment At 55 Million Acres

WASHINGTON (INS) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson Tuesday set the 1957 wheat crop national acreage allotment at 55 million acres—the legal minimum—and proposed a national marketing quota.

The quota would be subject to approval by eligible growers voting in a referendum on July 20.

If quotas are approved by two-thirds of the growers the support price for 1957-crop wheat will be available at the full rate in 36 major wheat-producing states to producers who keep within their allotments and quotas.

The support rate for the 1957-crop has not yet been announced. For the 1956-crop, the current minimum national support price is two dollars a bushel, or 83 1/2 per cent of parity.

If quotas are not approved in the July 20 referendum, the price support level will be set by law at 50 per cent of parity for growers who remain within their allotments. Approval is anticipated however.

1,954 Million Bushels
Official estimates are that the wheat supply for the 1956-57 marketing year, starting next July 1, will total 1,954 million bushels. This is 814 million bushels greater than the nation's "normal supply," or enough to cover a year's domestic and export disappearance.

plus a 20 per cent allowance for reserves.

State allotments for the 1957 wheat crop will be set soon, when the "non-commercial wheat states" allotments for 1957 will also be announced.

In the present twelve non-commercial states, where allotments and quotas do not operate, price support rates are at 75 per cent of the level available in the commercial area.

Marketing quotas have been approved by the nation's wheat growers for the last three crops.

In Tuesday's announcement, Benson said "This marks the fourth successive year that abnormally large wheat supplies have required the proclamation of marketing quotas for the next wheat crop."

Minimum
"It is the third successive year for which the national acreage allotment has had to be set at 55 million acres, the minimum specified by law."

"The plain fact is that, in spite of valiant attempts to channel more wheat into exports, we will still have enough wheat for the marketing year beginning July 1, 1956, to take care of all our domestic and export needs for more than two full years."

"The carryover, again, will exceed a billion bushels. Production is still so large that it practically equals an entire year's wheat disappearance."

While we are hopeful that holding down the carryover into 1957 '58, wheat continues as one of the most serious problems in the whole farm economy."

Nebraska Medical Association Installs Dr. J. M. Woodward, Lincoln, President

Dr. J. M. Woodward of Lincoln was installed as president of the Nebraska State Medical Association Tuesday at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Addresses by Doctors James E. Fitzgerald of Chicago, Ill.; G. Keith Folger of Cleveland, Ohio; Oscar D. Ratnoff of Cleveland, and Jacques P. Gray of Detroit, Mich. highlighted the morning session.

Tuesday registration was lighter than usual, according to M. C. Smith, executive secretary of the association.

Californian Pleads Guilt In Forgery

Harvey J. Couey, 32, of Modesto, Calif., pleaded guilty Tuesday in Lancaster District Court to a forgery charge.

Couey was charged with forging a $70.36 check Monday on the First National Bank in Lincoln with the attached name of "Kenneth Schafer."

Detectives George Hansen and Robert Sawdon apprehended Couey in the basement of a Lincoln department store after he had drawn a switch-knife and threatened two floor walkers who attempted to stop him after he had tried to cash the forged check, the officers said.

Authorities reported Couey admitted cashing four checks at Grand Island while enroute to Lincoln from Denver. Couey has served three prison terms, they said.

World's most popular POWER STEERING?

Right this way!

EVERY YEAR, more and more of the new cars sold are equipped with Power Steering. Many a man has bought it "for the wife"—then wondered how he ever got along without it.

And if you have in mind a new car with this increasingly popular feature, you ought to consider this fact:

Since the beginning of last year, Buick has sold far more new cars equipped with Power Steering* than any other car—over 20,000 more in 1955 alone.

That's the record—and the reasons for it are just as impressive.

Buick brings you In-Line Safety Power Steering. In addition to the one-finger ease of turning common to all such systems in varying degree, it has several distinct advantages.

It gives you surer, steadier, safer control at highway speeds—because it retains that good natural "feel" of the road. (That's something you really should compare.)

On the other hand, it gives you more power assist when you need it most—at crawl speeds and at full stop. For parking and other tight maneuvering, Buick's Power Steering makes wheel turning nearly twice as easy as other types of systems. (And that's by engineering computation.)

Add another plus: this Buick feature works through the new Buick front end—where a unique new geometry and steering linkage bring a sweet new response and a wonderfully easy handling and a surer "sense of direction" even to new Buicks not equipped with the power system.

So there you are—and here we are, waiting to prove it all to you.

Waiting, also, to let you try the new thrills to be had in Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo®—where getaway response and gas mileage both step up even before you switch the pitch.

And waiting to show you how the highest power yet, the sweetest ride yet and the boldest styling yet—all help to make this bright new beauty the Best Buick Yet.

Today is fine with us. How about you?

*Buick's In-Line Safety Power Steering is standard on Roadmaster and Super, optional at moderate extra cost on other Buicks.

POSTCARD

As was remarked so musically in "South Pacific," there is nothing like a dame.
Considered singly, a lady is a work of art is what I always say. (I say "like" this because I am a poet A gentleman from the old South, ma'am.)
A lady alone is a fair flower to be cherished.
Two ladies make a club and should be run off the property.

A club of grownup ladies is meeting this morning downstairs. It is a fearsome organization. Devoted to giving dances and in other ways being charitable to mankind.
Most ladies' clubs, I notice, are for charity. And charity is a hard thing to go up against because if you do, everybody can holler "Scrooge." Sometimes I wish these ladies' clubs would just get together and belt sherry and scream out the windows.
But this is not the way ladies' clubs are organized.
They are organized so they meet at each other's houses. Where they all have a before lunch sherry and scream out the windows.
The meeting will now come to order," says the boss lady.
Thereafter everything gets pretty disorderly.

While the ladies meet downstairs, your roving correspondent is ordered to rove upstairs. And keep out of sight.

This involves getting out of the way the portable typewriter. The tape recorder must be unhooked and removed. The thesaurus, the dictionary, Fowler's English Usage, paper, pencils, waste basket, ash trays.
For if the ladies came to order, scoffing their coffee, and saw all this commercial gear, we would simply die! Simply die of shame.
Club ladies should come in the house to find it smothered with spring flowers. The coffee table has a few bright colored magazines like "Home Decorating." And the matches were swapped from an elegant New York hotel. It shows we hang out in the right places.
The latest copy of "Confidential" is shoved out of sight along with the confidential master of the manor.
The ladies are in session and we should all walk tip-toe.
It is a good morning for charity. It is also a good morning to hang yourself.

It is a curious thing that all club ladies get together in a group to consider ways and means of being considered singly.
It is a long way around the barn. But they get there just the same. This whole enterprise will wind up in giving a dance. There is no nicer way to be charitable than flinging a ball.

Tickets will be issued, given every poor man Jack of us. These tickets go for $10.50 apiece. But also entitle you to a chance on a lovely set of oyster forks. Which everyone needs, you know, because nobody has such things.

All gentlemen or the home and fire-side will be issued a book of these tickets. And instructed to sell them around his office. "Because it's so easy. You meet dozens of people every day."
There is also coming, I feel, the matter of decorations. If this is a Hawaiian party, the gentlemen will be instructed to bring home a nice bunch of fresh coconuts. Coconuts make fine decorations. And it was an oversight on the part of Nature that they do not grow in this part of the country.
However, gentlemen grow in this part of the country. They can bring the coconuts.
Gentlemen will also spend their Saturdays and Sundays hauling chairs and borrowed tables to the site of this festival. (And the following week end hauling them back.) They will perform their chores gracefully. With energy and smiling faces and goodwill, please.
For the club is meeting. Cousin For sweet charity. And it doesn't begin at home.

Besides making such things as guns, tanks and ships, the report showed the government also is engaged in such activities as:

County To Ask Court To Split CPPD 'Lieu Of Taxes' Payment

Lancaster County will bring a declaratory judgment suit to determine how the $77,462.10 paid by Consumers Public Power District "in lieu of taxes for 1955" should be distributed.

The action, to be filed in Lancaster District Court, was authorized Tuesday by the County Board.

Involved in the suit are the City of Lincoln, 11 villages in the county, and 44 school districts, all of which receive money from the Consumer's payment.

Because of a disagreement between the county and city over the distribution of the money, Consumers paid the $77,462.10 in escrow, pending an agreement between the two political subdivisions or a judicial determination.

Deputy County Attorney Richard Harnsberger said the court will be asked to determine (1) the proper method for distributing the money and (2) whether the county board of equalization can appraise newly-acquired property of Consumers.

The distribution question arises, according to Harnsberger, in view of the Ellis case involving Scotts Bluff County, in which the Supreme Court held last year that distribution may vary with the mill levy.

Lincoln has contended the same distribution method used since 1941 should apply to it, instead of a formula based on changing mill levies.

In Scotts Bluff County, all taxes are collected and distributed by the county treasurer, while Lancaster County collects and distributes all taxes except for the City of Lincoln. The city collects its own.

In 1954, Lincoln received $19,865.41 as its share of the in-lieu-of-taxes payment, while the 1955 share, computed on a mill-levy formula, would be only $14,792.93. The 1954 share is based on a "frozen" formula set up in 1941 after the power district was created.

Other political subdivisions with increasing mill levies would get more money under a mill-levy distribution formula, while decreasing levies would bring less.

The formula, based on the Ellis case, involves complicated computations involving the overlapping of the various school districts with other subdivisions and varying mill levies, according to county officials. The 1941 formula has brought a "frozen" amount through the years to the various subdivisions and was not affected by changing levies.

If the Ellis case formula is used, the shares of the major subdivisions from the 1955 payment as compared with the previous year would be:

The bureau said the survey was made in line with an objective laid down by President Eisenhower early in his administration to turn over to private enterprise or to state and local governments such activities as could be handled more efficiently that way.

Next Move

The Budget Bureau said the next step in the program will be for the departments or agencies to evaluate their activities and take steps to end them if that is considered advisable.

The lone exception has been the

East Tibet Reported In Open Rebellion Against Chinese Commies

... 'Bombing, Killing Continues'

KALIMPONG, India (AP) — A Tibetan monk told newsmen Tuesday that eastern Tibet is in open rebellion against the ruling Chinese Communists, who took over the country in 1950.

"Fighting is continuing over wide areas," he said, many Chinese have been killed and some Buddhist monasteries have been bombed by Chinese warplanes.

The monk, who introduced himself as Ning Pe, monk commissioner of Gyangtse, an important Tibetan center, said he had left Tibet to tell the outside world what is happening in his country.

He said he wants other Asian nations to use their influence to get the Chinese out.

Rumors of an uprising in Tibet were reported earlier this month during the coronation of King Mahendra of neighboring Nepal. Reports circulated among diplomats attending the coronation in Katmandu told of widespread fighting in eastern Tibet.

Exaggerated

An Indian government spokesman said last Friday these reports were exaggerated.

Indian representatives in Lhasa, the Tibetan capital, have reported that Communist land reform provoked opposition in eastern Tibet, the spokesman said. But he indicated this opposition has been suppressed.

India is the only non-Communist nation with government representation in Tibet.

Ning Pe said the revolt broke out 10 weeks ago when the Chinese sent a 3,000-man task force into the Dzachuka area to hunt for arms and ammunition.

Struck Back

Monks and Tibetan tribesmen refused to give up their weapons and struck back at the Chinese force. The revolt spread quickly throughout the area of Tibet north of the India-Burma border.

Behind the revolt, Ning Pe said, are long-standing Tibetan grievances against Peiping's taxes, which are collected by the troops.

Kalimpong is the Indian terminus of the main caravan route to Tibet, which runs through Gyangtse to Lhasa.

60 Freight Cars Derailed In Crash

KREMMLING, Colo. (INS) — Two freight trains of a Denver and Rio Grande western line sideswiped near Troublesome, five miles east of Kremmling Tuesday, derailling 60 cars and shaking up four trainmen.

Rio Grande officials said passenger trains are expected to run about four hours late.

Evening trains between Denver and Craig and Denver and Grand Junction were canceled while the track was cleared.

'Recognized'

VATICAN CITY (U) — The remains of Pope Innocent XI, undisturbed for 254 years, were "recognized" in another step of the long process leading to his beatification.

The ceremony was held behind the closed doors of St. Peter's basilica.

Beatification is now expected to take place next month.

Pegans Sentenced In Fondling Case

James Lee Pegans, 22-year-old, Lincolnite was sentenced to three to five years in the State Reformatory following revocation of his probation on a fondling charge.

In connection with the sentence by Lancaster District Judge Paul White, the State Board of Control will be asked to transfer the defendant to a state hospital for treatment.

Pegans had been placed on three years' probation after pleading guilty to a fondling charge involving a eight-year-old boy on Feb. 5, 1955.

He pleaded guilty to an information for revocation of his probation last week after being returned from Denver for alleged parole violation in connection with a similar incident there.

Here's an entirely new grade of gasoline—at regular price—so good it will give smooth, top performance to millions of cars that have been using premium fuel!

NEW GRADE

Mobilgas R

Now you get Even More Miles per Gallon because Mobilgas R contains MC₄ and higher-than-ever octane!

Now... watch your gas needle move more slowly.

Looking for top mileage economy—smooth, full-powered performance? Try New Mobilgas R—an entirely new grade of gasoline at regular price—designed for all but the highest compression cars.

Its octane is equal to the premium gasolines of only a few years ago. It is so good—it will satisfy the anti-knock requirements of millions of cars that have been using premium-priced fuel—can put new pep in many cars using "regular" gasoline!

New Mobilgas R also contains MC₄—most effective combination of additives ever put in gasoline to correct common engine ills. MC₄ saves gasoline four ways...

1. Cleans carburetor interiors—keeps them clean.

2. Extends spark plug life.

3. Controls harmful pre-ignition.

4. Reduces stalling in all kinds of weather.

See your friendly Mobilgas dealer for New Mobilgas R—get even more miles per gallon!

Nebraskans Ask $15 Million For Salt Creek Flood Control

WASHINGTON — A group of Nebraskans Tuesday asked for a House Public Works subcommittee to approve a $15-million flood-control project on Salt Creek and its tributaries.

The Army Engineers have recommended the project. It calls for $13,313,800 in federal and $1,686,200 in non-federal funds.

The committee is putting together a general flood control authorization measure to be sent to the House for action.

Robert B. Crosby, former governor of Nebraska and now attorney for the Salt-Wahoo Watershed Assn., said that throughout the entire length of the valley lands along both Salt Creek and Wahoo Creek and their tributaries are subject to serious flooding.

Urban areas subject to flooding, Crosby said, include Lincoln, Ashland, Hickman, Sprague, Roca, Saltito, Valparaiso, Raymond, Memphis, Ithaca and Wahoo.

Raymond A. McConnell Jr., editor of The Lincoln Journal and chairman of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed Assn., said the project "is the fruit of a monumental effort of cooperation."

He described the floods that have hit the basin over the years including one in May, 1950 which inflicted 1.23 million dollars damages in the city of Lincoln alone.

McConnell said that in addition to the flood control project, pilot watershed projects under the Soil Conservation Service have been started in the last two years in the Swedeburg area and in the Upper Salt Creek area.

The flood control project would include 12 dams and reservoirs, channel clearing and other work as well as certain bridge alterations.

$100,000 Gem Loss Is Reported

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Jewels worth $100,000 were reported missing Tuesday by Albert Warner, one of the brothers who founded Warner Brothers movie studio and last week sold their interests for nearly 20 million dollars.

Police said the jewels were last seen when they were placed in a traveling case that was checked at an airline baggage counter at Los Angeles International Airport.

Officers said the gems may have been misplaced, lost or stolen.

The loss was reported to insurance adjusters. Warner and his wife were en route to New York when the loss occurred.

Tremendous Atom Uses Growth Seen

Tremendous use of the atom during the next 10 to 15 years was predicted Tuesday by Don P. Caverly, director of Sylvania Lighting Centers of New York.

Speaking to the Lincoln Rotary meeting at the Chamber of Commerce, Caverly said "we have a great way to go yet" in devising uses of the atom.

The speaker said the main use of atomic fission was in generating heat which, transferred through steam turbines, becomes a major source of power. This power, he said, will be of great use in generating electricity and in driving steamships which normally use a large part of their potential cargo space for fuel storage.

Useful Space
This space in the future will be available for cargoes, Caverly said, because of the compact nature of atomic power plants.

Using demonstration models, the New Yorker said a basic understanding of atomic energy is not complicated. Most people, though, think in terms of the atom bomb when relating to atoms, not in terms of energy.

He related that the breaking up of the atomic nucleus suddenly is an atomic explosion, but the gradual explosion, such as in a reactor, is a source of heat.

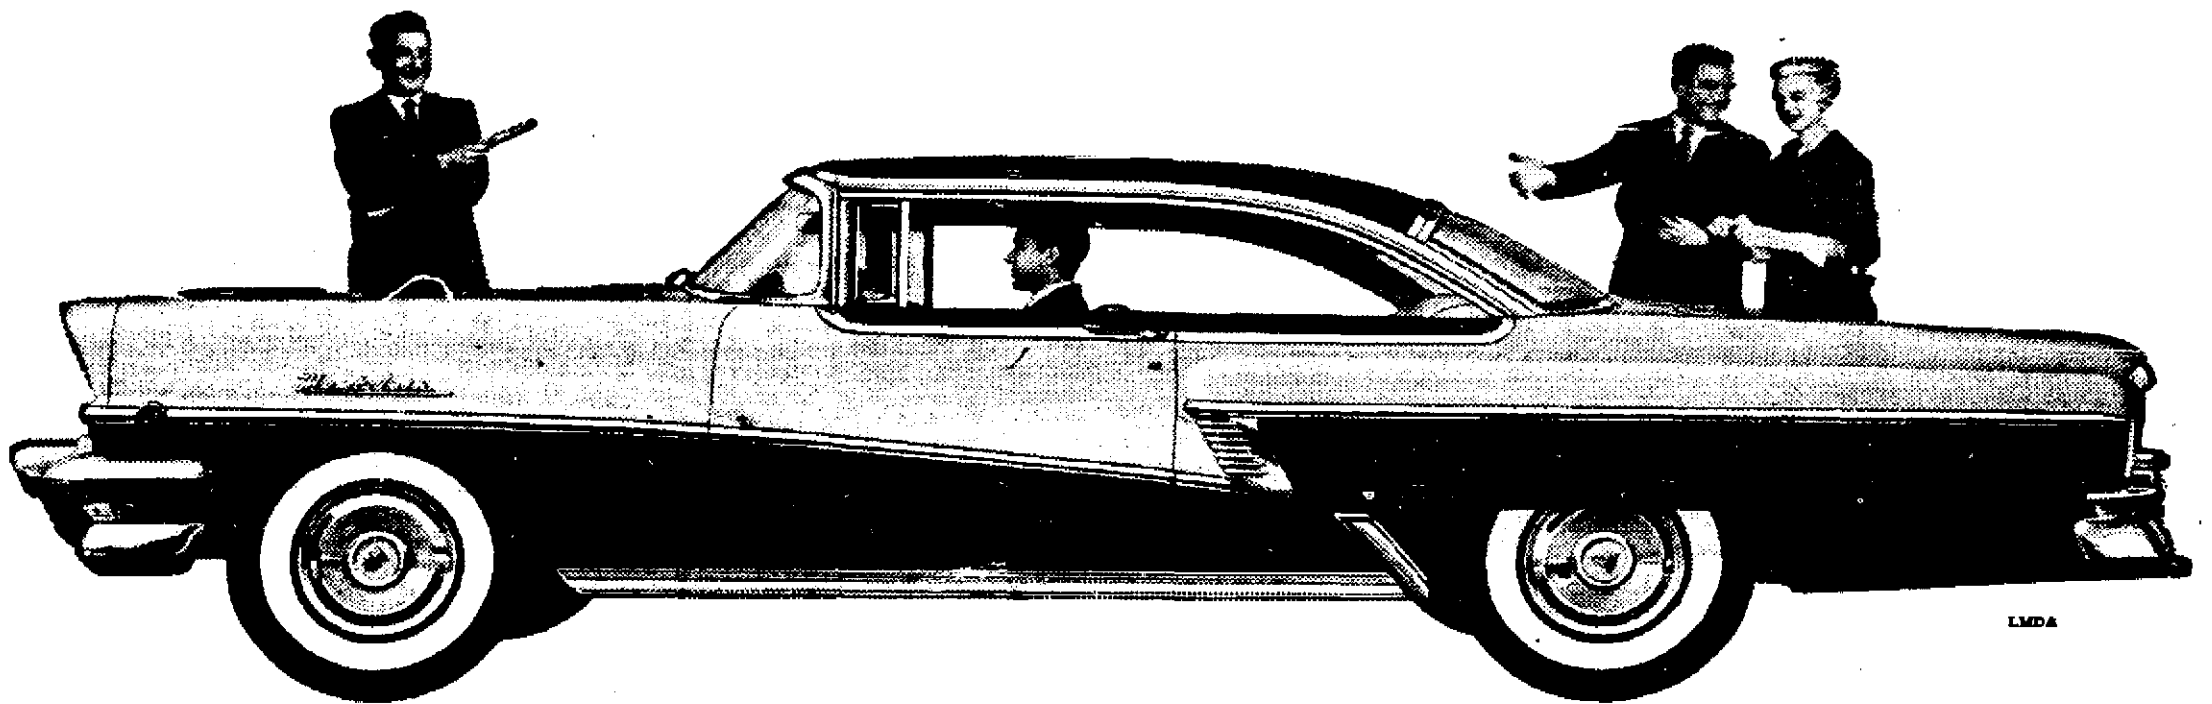

During the meeting an Air Base officer and the commanding officer of the Naval Air Station were honored as part of Armed Forces Week. The honors were given Cmdr. Frank H. Holt of the Naval Air Station and Col. William G. Gillespie of the Air Base. Honors also went to Brig. Gen. Guy N. Henninger of the Nebraska National Guard.

State Medical Auxiliary Meets In Lincoln

New officers of the Women's Auxiliary to the Nebraska State Medical Association were elected Tuesday afternoon at the organization's annual business meeting held at the Hotel Cornhusker.

A special guest of the auxiliary is Mrs. Frank Gastineau of Indianapolis, Ind., who arrived in Lincoln Tuesday noon to serve as advisor in her capacity as chairman of the national auxiliary to the American Medical Association. Greeting Mrs. Gastineau (center) at the airport were Mrs. W. W. Carveth (left) and Mrs. Fred Feriot (right).

Mrs. Gastineau will be honored at a reception Wednesday noon preceding the auxiliary's luncheon and fashion show at the Lincoln Country Club. Serving as models for the show will be Mrs. Carveth, Mrs. H. E. Flansburg, Mrs. Orvis Neely and Mrs. L. F. Pfeifer.

Elected directors of the auxiliary on Tuesday were Mrs.

To Hold Coffee

Mrs. Fred Putney will entertain the members of the League of Women Voters of Lincoln at her home, 850 So. 51st, at 10 o'clock coffee Thursday morning. There will be no business meeting, and every member is urged to attend the informal coffee.

Mrs. E. Glen Callen is chairman of the hostess committee and will be assisted by Miss Martha Fodge, Mrs. H. W. Manner, Mrs. William Fleming and Mrs. George Lewis.

Mothers Club Elects

When the Sigma Chi Mothers Club met for their annual spring luncheon at the University Club, new officers for the coming year were elected.

Not included in the picture are Mrs. Sigfried North, treasurer, and Mrs. Ray Sherman, corresponding secretary.

TOWN TALK

SINCE we want to tell as much news as possible we'll dispense with the usual amenities this ayem and get down to business. We want to tell you, for instance, that we heard news of Mrs. P. Rolfe Halligan — Mrs. Halligan, we were told plans to spend the summer with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Childs at Weston, Mass. — and during her absence her home will be occupied by Mrs. L. R. Doyle.

HEAR that Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Knudsen have a house guest — their grand-son, William Knudsen, Jr., of Milwaukee. Young Mr. Knudsen, aged two — arrived in Lincoln nearly three weeks ago, accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William N. Knudsen. Mr. Knudsen, after spending a few days in Lincoln, returned home, and Mrs. Knudsen, who stayed on for a longer visit, left for her home last Saturday. In two or three weeks William, Jr., will return to Milwaukee accompanied by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Knudsen.

CHECKED the week-end calendar again and discovered some more parties for brides-elect. There is, for instance, a dessert luncheon at Hotel Cornhusker when Miss Billie Howalt and Miss Joan Heusner are hostesses in pre-nuptial courtesy to Theta sister, Miss Jane Campbell, whose marriage to James Evans will be solemnized on June 9. Fourteen guests, all Kappa Alpha Theta sisters, have been invited for the luncheon and a crystal shower for the soon-to-be bride.

ON THE far side of the week-end — Monday, May 21, is the party which Mrs. Robert Burton, the former Judy Flansburg, has planned in pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Nancy Hemphill who will marry Robert Dawson in June. The guests, all members of a former high school group of the hostess and honoree, have been invited for a dessert supper and a shower.

NEXT Wednesday, so someone told us, Mrs. Joe Carroll, Mrs. Paul Ohlweiser and Mrs. George Healey are to be hostesses at a morning coffee at the home of Mrs. Healey when they compliment Miss Diane Weiss whose marriage to Lt. Jack Gordon will take place soon. Twenty guests have been invited and among them will be the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Roy Weiss of Las Vegas, Nev.

SUBURBIA

We came to the conclusion, after our usual trek around Country Club Manor, that Thursday is the winner of this week's popularity contest — Thursday seems to be the day various hostesses have chosen to entertain. But Tuesday and Wednesday still are in the running since both days have social events to their credit.

As a matter of fact we think we shall begin the news of Country Club Manor with the dessert supper for which Mrs. Jake Lowe was hostess on Tuesday evening when she entertained the members of her bridge club.

And on Wednesday (today) there is to be a morning coffee at the home of Mrs. Harold Boyd when Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Thomas Boles and Mrs. Charles Boulden entertain the wives of the officers of the 345th Squadron.

Now for Thursday — First we heard that Mrs. Vernon Walker will be hostess to the members of her bridge group.

And another of the Thursday affairs is the evening bridge party for which Mrs. Duane Rankin (Jane Mape) will be hostess to a number of her friends.

Thursday also is the day that Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kuzelka and their children, Richard, Susan and Kim, will be leaving to spend a long week end in Norfolk where they will be the guests of Mr. Kuzelka's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Kuzelka.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Kuzelka will be present at the ceremonies when Mr. Kuzelka's brother, Robert, is graduated from Norfolk High School.

There's another new neighbor in Country Club Manor — young Miss Gloria Joan White who arrived at Lincoln General Hospital on Sunday, May 6. Gloria Joan's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. White, and her mother is the former Alice Henry.

To Entertain

The Officers Wives of the 818th Air Division and Air Base group of the Lincoln Air Force Base will meet at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning for a lawn party to be held at the home of Mrs. W. N. Page 4120 A. All officers wives of the division are invited to attend.

School Group Formed

The Pershing School Mothers Club completed the organization of the new group Tuesday afternoon when the members elected officers for the coming year.

Following the meeting, the group attended the May Day program presented by the kindergarten and first grade pupils of the school.

To Head Riley PTA

Mrs. Duane Hughes, a former president of Riley PTA, presided at the installation of new officers Tuesday afternoon at the closing meeting of the year for the unit. The program was given by the sixth grade pupils and by the kindergarten's rhythm band.

—South Korea— 81-Year-Old Rhee Wins Third Term

He Trails A Dead Candidate In Seoul

SEOUL, South Korea (Wednesday) — Syngman Rhee today won his third term as president of South Korea on the basis of incomplete but conclusive returns from Tuesday's presidential election.

But the President, 81, was trailing a dead candidate in a surprisingly heavy protest vote in the capital city of Seoul itself.

With 3,090,700 ballots counted over the nation—almost half of the vote cast—Rhee had a commanding margin over ex-Communist Cho Bong An, his only live opponent.

National police said unofficial returns counted by 7:30 a.m. gave Rhee 2,227,309 and Cho 889,242, with 793,179 invalid.

Election officials said the bulk of the invalid ballots were for P. H. Shinicky, the Democratic party candidate and Rhee's long-time political foe. Shinicky died of a cerebral hemorrhage while campaigning May 3.

In Seoul balloting, Rhee got only 1,780 votes as compared to 237,412 invalid ballots. Cho had 102,307 in Seoul.

The bulk of the vote still uncounted is from rural areas, where Rhee's greatest political strength lies.

Korean election laws made no provision for removing Shinicky's name from the ballot after his death. His Democratic party leaders urged followers to vote for him as a protest against Rhee's two administrations and Rhee's Liberal party.

All Invalid
Election officials said all votes for Shinicky would be ruled invalid.

Despite Rhee's success, his vice presidential running mate, Le Ki Pong, was trailing in first scattered returns from that race.

Polling places in Seoul and three of the nine provinces gave his strongest opponent — Dr. Chang Myun of the Democratic party—120,418 votes to 45,568 for Le Ki Pong. This was a margin of almost 3 to 1.

The vice presidential returns were slower coming in because election officials in most areas completed counting the presidential ballots before turning to the second office.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY
Mrs. Jean Gerber
(MOTHER OF 5)

Sighing over that figure that somehow has never quite come back? Why not try these common-sense suggestions? Start by watching your posture...sitting, standing, walking, working. Pull in your tummy. Throw back your shoulders for an "uplift" look. Pull ribs away from hips by stretching whenever you can (bed making is swell for this).
Amazing how these little things help whittle a waist, tone down a tummy, nip inches off a hip.

Daily dozens. Exercise is good for baby too, and just as important as rest. Baby gets it by kicking or shadow-boxing with his arms, so clothing and bedding should not be restricting. A little kicking time, before bath-time is excellent. A bit of help from you and these gymnastics will develop baby's strength.

More on the subject of strength.
Proteins, as you probably know, are the great strength-givers—the body-building materials so vital to growth and muscle development.
Gerber Strained and Junior Meats are rich in complete proteins—have the savory true-meat flavors babies like. Made from selected Armour cuts, they're processed to reduce fat and fiber to a minimum, so even tiny babies can digest them. Pure meat, with just enough broth to enhance flavor and texture.

Snip tip. Baby outgrowing that knit suit? Snip off the crotch; hem and presto! You've a polo shirt.

Special treats for your sweet.
Babies develop a "sweet tooth" all too quickly. But fruits or puddings make better desserts for baby than cake or cookies.
Why not satisfy baby's "sweet tooth" with one of Gerber Strained
Desserts—Vanilla,
Orange, Chocolate or Fruit Dessert?
All are made with wholesome ingredients. All are flavored—altogether wonderful.
Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Mich.

Workers Load Tusks For Ft. Robinson

Henry Reider (at left) and Don Martin, preparators at the University of Nebraska State Museum, load elephant tusks covered with plaster of Paris for delivery to Ft. 400 Attend First Concert By U Of N Men's Glee Club

Nearly 400 persons attended the University of Nebraska's Varsity Men's Glee Club's concert in the Student Union ballroom, Tuesday evening.

It was the group's first public appearance on the Lincoln campus.

Organized last year by Assistant Professor Dale Ganz after a 15-year absence, the Glee Club consists of 54 male members and a coed, Miss Diane Knotek of Lincoln who recently was named "Miss Lincoln."

Diane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Reese was a soloist.

Other soloists with the Glee Club were Bruce Martin of Lincoln and Ernest English of New Orleans, La.

Also performing Tuesday night was the quartet, "The Nebraskans."

Members of the group were Don Deterding of Deshler, Burton Johnson of Wahoo, Will Elise of Fairbury, and Marvin McNeice of DeQueen, Ark.

Russ Bus Drivers Go To Same Movie As British Queen

LONDON (U)—A party of Russian bus drivers vacationing in Britain got the feel of democracy in a monarchy when they went to the movies.

Sitting in the row behind them were Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh.

The drivers are the first Russians to visit Britain as tourists since the 1917 revolution in Russia.

Unity Urged

CHICAGO (INS)—An officer of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters appealed for unity within the ranks of the huge organization.

Einar Mohn, executive vice president of the union, told more than 1,000 union leaders at a Chicago conference that the pressure brought to bear outside the union merely made it more powerful.

George Hopkins, Ex-Q Man, Dies

Funeral services will be Thursday in Maywood, Calif., for George B. Hopkins, who lived in the Lincoln area most of his life until he retired ten years ago.

Mr. Hopkins died Monday at his Maywood home at the age of 74. Burial will be in California.

Mr. Hopkins worked in the Havelock Shops of the Burlington Railroad until he retired and moved to California.

He is survived by his wife, Edna; three daughters, Mrs. Bedita Abler, Downey, Calif., Mrs. Pauline Cooper, Stockton, Calif., and Mrs. Doane Howell, Southgate, Calif.; three sons, Lyle and Gerald of Yerba, Calif., and Harold of Lincoln; ten grandchildren and several great grandchildren.

British Laborite To Speak In U.S.

Boy, 15, Injured In Car-Bike Collision

John Quinn, 15, of 2317 No. 63rd, suffered bruises and lacerations of his left leg in a bike-car collision at Fairfax and North Corner Tuesday night.

He was treated at Lincoln General Hospital and later released.

Police said Quinn was riding south on North Corner when his bike collided with a car going north on Corner driven by Mrs. Lina I. Spink, 63, of 6216 Francis.

Mental Patients Picked Up Before Escape Reported

Two Safety Patrolmen who spotted a "suspicious" car near McCook discovered the occupants were unreported escapees from the Hastings State Hospital.

State Troopers Janousek and Kennedy stopped a 1952 car five miles west of McCook on Highway 34 and 5 and found that the two men in the car were escaped mental patients.

They had apparently left the hospital about 7:20 p.m., but the Safety Patrol had received no report that the pair was missing. They were picked up about 11 p.m.

An employee at the hospital had given the two patients permission to move his car from one location on the hospital grounds to another.

Pipeline To LAFB Okayed

The Great Lakes Pipeline Company has been authorized to construct a 6- to 8-inch petroleum pipeline from its pumping station south of Lincoln to the Lincoln Air Force Base.

The Kansas City, Mo., firm had asked for authority for the approximately 14-mile pipeline to be laid across and alongside of public roads and highways in the county where necessary.

The pumping station is located on Highway 77 south of Lincoln. The proposed line will extend from the station in a northwesterly direction, skirting the southwest edge of Pioneer Park to the west edge of the Air Base.

Jet Fuel

The line will carry fuel for the base's jet bombers. The base's fuel storage system is at the west edge of the base.

The pipeline company agrees to construct temporary bridges when needed to hold traffic interference to a minimum and to allow the county engineer to supervise all construction involving county rights-of-way.

County Board Acts—Welfare Dept. Gets $40,000 More In Funds

The Lancaster County Board has augmented the $300,000 over-ceiling medical funds of the Division of Public Welfare with an additional $40,000 from the general funds.

Board Chairman Russell Brehm explained that the $300,000 for the 1955-56 fiscal year "is almost gone."

The amount approved, according to Brehm, should carry the welfare department through the remainder of the fiscal year.

The medical funds are used for medical care of old age assistance recipients when their needs exceed the state allowance of $65 a month for subsistence and medical care.

COUNTY ADDS TO REWARDS

... In Fire Series

The Lancaster County Commissioners have increased to $500 the rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons maliciously setting fire to public and private property in the county.

The rewards were prompted by a series of 17 fires to vacant farm buildings and a schoolhouse during the past two months. All are believed to be arson.

Earlier, the Association of Fire and Casualty Underwriters in the county authorized a $250 reward. The county board has also approved a $250 reward.

'Science-Based Industry Vital To Midwest'

... Kimball Assents

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—If the Midwest is going to progress with the rest of the nation, its future lies in science-based industries, Dr. Charles N. Kimball, president of Midwest Research Institute, said in his annual report to the Institute's board of trustees.

"For every two jobs created in industry and services over the past 5 years, our region lost one in agriculture," Dr. Kimball declared. "We can compensate for the decline in farm jobs by greater industrialization, not only in the cities, but also in the small rural trading centers," he said.

"Smaller communities are essential to our economy," he said, "and we cannot afford agricultural ghost towns like the abandoned Rocky Mountain mining communities."

Far-Reaching

This region is undergoing a far-reaching transition, Dr. Kimball further explained.

Only recently the Midwest was a raw-materials producing area and many communities were essentially colonial-type trading posts, he said, but agricultural predominance is declining and by 1960 or so more people will be employed in industry than in agriculture in this region.

"This change from rural to urban occupations is an evolutionary one, which took place in the United States at large more than 25 years ago," Dr. Kimball said.

Morton Steinhart of Nebraska City and W. Dale Clark of Omaha were re-elected as trustees of the Institute and Laurence R. Hoagland and John F. Merriam, both of Omaha, were named new members of the board from Nebraska.

'George says I'm a genius!'

George is just amazed at how I manage to keep our house looking immaculate and still have time to enjoy the things I like to do most. Actually, all I've done is find a faster, easier way to do every job around the house. Like my wood floors. Cleaning and waxing them used to be my toughest chore. But now it's really one of my easiest. I just use Bruce Cleaning Wax. That way I clean and wax at the same time. And there's no floor washing at all. I'm through in half the time—and no more aching muscles from scrubbing. If you have wood floors, you'll want to try Bruce Cleaning Wax. It's simply wonderful!

Incidentally, I've found other Bruce floor products help me, too. There's Bruce Floor Cleaner for cleaning and lighter waxing, Bruce Paste Wax, Bruce Asphalt Tile Cleaner, Bruce Asphalt Tile Self-Polishing Wax and the new Bruce Self-Polishing Wax. Yes, for floors like Bruce!

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

Have it on reliable rumor and calibrated hearsay that this campaign is going to be dirtier than the back of history's neck.

All's fair in love and war and there are no foul lines in politics.

The Democrats feel they lost in 1952 because they pulled their punches like a guy patty-caking with a porcupine.

This time they are going to incorporate the whisper, subsidize the innuendo and compound the biggy.

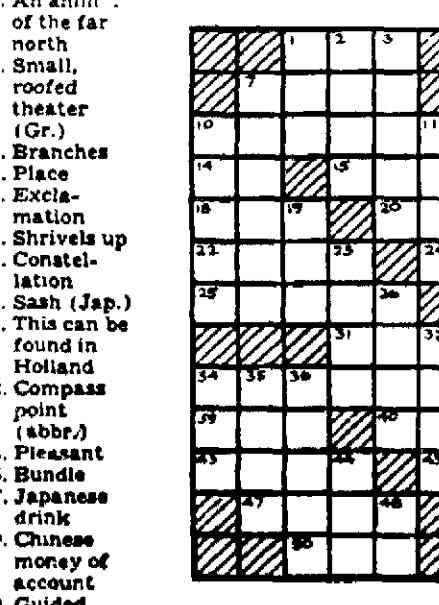

Budget Increases LONDON (INS) — The British Government has decided to spend more money telling the world about Britain. The sum allocated to the overseas information services has been increased by $33,000 to $2,019,000. The extra money will be spent mainly on film services, including television films, and pamphlets and magazines.

Mountain Hobby WHEATRIDGE, Colo. (M) — Eddie Espinosa has 29,000-foot Mt. Everest in the basement of his home. Espinosa's mountains are only scale models, of course, and they're strictly a hobby. AIL-ROOKIE LOOP SET IN NEBRASKA

8-Team Class D League For June Grads Only

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Baseball's first all-rookie league, an eight-team Nebraska circuit in which eight major league clubs will split all profits or losses equally, was organized here Tuesday.

The Class D circuit will be open only to June graduates of high schools or colleges with no previous professional experience. A non-playing professional manager will be in charge of each club.

Tigers Whip Red Sox, 6-3

DETROIT (AP) — Young Paul Foytack gained his second major league pitching victory Tuesday as the Detroit Tigers backed him with a 13-hit attack in defeating the Boston Red Sox 6-3.

The 25-year-old right-hander, making his third start of the season, needed a tight relief performance from Steve Gromek. The veteran sidearm pitcher pitched the eighth and ninth innings and struck out four of the six men he faced.

In agreeing to pool all receipts and divide them at the season's end, or to split all deficits on the same plan, the major league teams also showed cooperation by drawing the name of their farm clubs from a hat.

The farm directors did the drawing, and it came out like this:

John Mullen, Milwaukee Braves; McCook, Neb.; Carl Hubbell, New York Giants; Hastings, Neb.; Glen Miller, Chicago White Sox; Holdridge, Neb.; John Murphy, Boston Red Sox; Lexington, Neb.; Ossie Bluege, Washington Senators; Superior, Neb.; Mike McNally, Cleveland Indians; North Platte, Neb.; Lee MacPhail, New York Yankees; Kearney, Neb.; Hank Peters, Kansas City Athletics; Grand Island, Neb.

George M. Trautman, president of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues, said the teams making up the league were within a 150-mile area.

He said the loop would open this year, playing either a 63 or 70-game program between July 1 and Sept. 31. Still under discussion was whether seven games a week would be scheduled, or whether Saturday would be an off day. The farm directors also studied a proposal to have one day game per week, with the others under the lights.

Floyd Stuckney of Kearney, who formerly managed that town's club in the Nebraska Independent loop, represented Nebraska at the session. The interested towns were to name league officers on his return to Nebraska, but Stuckney said he was not interested in the presidency.

Under the league setup, each interested city is to sell 500 books of tickets at $10 each before the season starts, with the money going to the major league club sponsoring the team. Trautman said the new loop figures to cost each major league team in the neighborhood of $13,000, despite the $5,000 ticket sales net.

Teams will be limited to 21 players. Trautman said the loop will fill a long-sought need in organized ball in that it will give to the high-ranking teams a chance to test high school and college talent at a lower level.

White Sox Gain With 5-1 Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox used to their fifth straight victory Tuesday by whipping Washington 5-1 behind right-hander Bob Keegan. The triumph pulled the third-place Sox within 1 1/2 games of the American League lead as the game between New York and Cleveland was rained out.

Keegan, who slipped to a 3-5 record last season after posting a 16-9 mark in 1951, displayed his old form in posting his second victory against no losses.

Washington's only run was unearned despite nine hits. Keegan has not allowed an earned run this season in 21 2-3 innings.

Weygant Hits 2 More Homers; 10 In Four Tilts

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Distance-hitting Topeka First Baseman Al Weygant continued his astonishing home run spree Tuesday night, socking a pair of 400-foot circuits — each with a mate aboard — to personally lead the Hawks past Albuquerque 5-3.

In driving Topeka to its seventh successive Western League win, Weygant claimed his ninth and tenth homers in four games, accounting for 21 runs batted in. The Yankee farmhand walked his two other times at bat for a perfect night.

Mays, Mueller Spark Giants Whip Cubs; End Losing Streak

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays and Don Mueller broke out of prolonged battering slumps with a total of six hits, including a home run each, Tuesday and ended the New York Giants' four-game losing streak with a 6-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Johnny Antonelli, who pitched hitless ball through the first four innings, had to put down a late Chicago rally to gain his second pitching triumph of the season against three defeats. Warren Hacker was the loser.

Mays, who entered the game batting .209, blasted two singles in addition to his home run and accounted for two runs. Mueller, batting .256, matched Mays' homer in the third inning in addition to getting a single in the first and a double in the seventh, each scoring Mays.

Mays' home run, his fourth of the season, was a blast which landed against the facade of the left field stands to open the third. Shortly afterwards Mueller lined one into the lower right field stands. It was his first of the season.

Lincoln High Nine Tips Holy Name

Lincoln High pitcher Matt Sheridan gave up only seven hits while hurling the Links to a 4-2 victory over Omaha Holy Name Tuesday afternoon.

Yogi Hergenrader, shifted to shortstop for the game, was the hitting star for the Links. He hit a triple and a single in four trips to the plate.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

It's too early to predict the finish of the Lincoln Chiefs, or say with any authority just how good—or bad—a team they are.

A stock answer is always best early in a baseball campaign and I use the one above when fans ask: "How will the Chiefs do?" or "What kind of a club do we have?" or "Are we better than last year?"

But there is certainly plenty of room for discussion on the point of the 1953 Chiefs.

If there's anything Lincolinites have learned about their ball club in recent years, it's that they shouldn't count their pennants on the showings of April, May and June.

The past two seasons have seen the Chiefs sail through the early stages of the campaign and then crumble.

There are, however, definite signs that the current team is blessed with, one asset that was absent in 1952—power. This, in itself, should prove to be a preventative against a complete collapse as the season progresses.

Larry Shepard can use a lineup that boasts home-run hitting ability at several spots. In 1952 Bill Burwell had to be content with occasional roundtrippers, largely from two players—Ted Adkins and Frank Rice.

Using the "Big Five" from the 1952 and 1953 clubs as a yardstick, it's possible to show some comparisons.

At the same stage of the season last year, Lincoln's five players—Rice, Adkins, Dick Hall, Jack Falls and Rex Babcock—had hit 10 homers and driven in 60 runs.

This year Sam Miley, Ken Toothman, Dick Stuart, Ray Swartz and Joe Zavatario have scored 12 home runs and accounted for 73 RBIs.

The 1953 quintet wound up with 66 home runs. What the 1953 group will do remains to be seen. If by chance the current five would continue at their pace to date—highly unlikely, to be sure—they would hit 126 roundtrippers.

Dick Hall was the HR leader at this time in 1952 with four,

Final Double Tips Chiefs Santee's Olympic Hopes Crushed; AAU Rapped

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — Wes Santee's hopes of regaining his amateur status and running in the Olympic games apparently were crushed Tuesday when the state Supreme Court upheld the lifetime suspension imposed on the great Kansas miler by the Amateur Athletic Union.

Justice Walter A. Lynch, who handed down a biting opinion after six weeks' wait, also rapped the knuckles of amateur officials who seek to capitalize on sports stars.

"He (Santee) has eliminated himself as an amateur athlete," Justice Lynch said, "but not without an assist from some of the guardians of amateur athletics."

The justice added "Promoters of amateur athletic meets should realize that while Santee, by his conduct, disqualified himself from amateur competition, the fault lies in no small part with them as a class."

Some Good May Come
"The records show that in their desire for larger gate receipts some promoters have sought to capitalize on the athletic ability of such stars as Santee. From this unfortunate incident some good may come to amateur athletics in the United States."

The decision may have brought an end to the prolonged court fight which followed Santee's suspension last Feb. 19 on charges that he took money above allowable expenses for competing in track meets.

Charles P. Grimes, Santee's attorney, said that while there were further legal steps he might take he didn't know yet whether they would be pursued.

"We could take the case to the Appellate division of the state Supreme Court and then to the Court of Appeals, even as high as the Supreme Court of the United States," Grimes said, "but this would be long, tedious and costly."

Grimes said a special request would have to be made to the Appellate division, which has closed its spring calendar, and "volumes of records would have to be assembled. It would be very expensive."

Santee, a Marine lieutenant stationed at Quantico, Va., said he expected the opinion to be "more severe" and added that Justice Lynch "pointed out things we have been pointing out," in reference apparently to track meet promoters. He said he disagreed with the justice's assertion that he "failed to follow the rules."

Chiefs Swap Pitcher Drilling For Dukes' Cash, Infielder

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Dick Drilling, right-handed Lincoln Chiefs pitcher and a Western League veteran, was traded to the Albuquerque Dukes Tuesday for an undisclosed amount of cash and an infielder.

General Manager Dick Wagner announced the deal late Tuesday afternoon.

Lincoln obtained infielder Stan Stewart from the Dukes in the Drilling transaction, but he probably won't play for the Chiefs. It's likely that Stewart will be sent to some other club in the Pittsburgh organization.

Drilling, who posted a 12-12 record for the Chiefs last year, has been used only in relief this year.

Although picking up two wins in two days at Albuquerque, to make his 1956 record 3-1, Drilling has been unspectacular as a fireman.

Dick has worked eight and two-thirds innings and given up 14 hits, five runs, three earned runs, while fanning six and walking three.

In making the announcement, Wagner said, "Drilling didn't fit into our plans for this year and there was no place for him in Class A with the Pittsburgh organization. He wanted to pitch in Class A ball, so we made a deal for him with Albuquerque to enable him to stay in A."

Wagner also announced that infielder John Morse has been given his release. Morse saw only brief action with the Chiefs.

Omaha Pitcher To Manage Soos

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Appointment of Bob Clear, right-handed pitcher with the Omaha baseball club, as player-manager of the St. Louis Cardinals of the Western League, was announced Tuesday by Soos President Adam Pratt.

He succeeds Harold Ott who resigned for personal reasons, and will take over his duties at Colorado Springs where St. Louis City is playing tonight.

Clear, 28, has been in the St. Louis Cardinals chain for the last 12 years.

Sooners Forfeit Game To Tigers

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Oklahoma University's baseball coach refused to play Missouri on a substitute grass field Tuesday and the Big 7 game was forfeited to the Tigers 9-0.

The forfeiture put Missouri back into first place in the conference standings. Oklahoma had defeated Missouri Monday 13-6 to take over the top spot.

An early morning rain had made the regular diamond unfit for use. When play was called on the temporary field by Umpire Dick McKinney, Oklahoma Coach Jack Kinney, Oklahoma Coach Jack Kinney refused to let his men play. After a 6-minute wait McKinney forfeited the game to the Tigers.

Bums Stretch Win String

BROOKLYN (AP) — Four unearned runs in the fourth inning, in which rookie shortstop Don Blasingame erred twice and Pee Wee Reese poled a three-run homer, brought the Brooklyn Dodgers their fifth straight victory Tuesday night as the world champions defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 7-5.

Reese's homer, his first of the season, ended Dodger scoring for the night and handed right-hander Tom Poholsky his first defeat after three victories.

The body was found about 40 feet from where the boy fell in the river.

Nebraska Reports 23 New Oil Well Locations In Week

DENVER, Mo. — Petroleum information said Wyoming reported 41 new oil well locations last week to lead states in the Rocky Mountain-high plains oil producing area.

Nebraska reported 23 new locations, Colorado and northern New Mexico 16 each, Montana 13, North Dakota 7 and Utah 3.

The industry journal's weekly summary included these developments:

Nebraska — Skelly Oil has completed the No. 1 Lundberg in Morrill County for 330 barrels of oil per day from the J. sand. Total depth is 5,262 feet. Sunray Mid-Continent reported swabbing one to three barrels of oil per hour for six hours at 6,942-46 feet in its No. 1 Lightbody well in Kimball County.

Carroll, Ia., Grocer Recounts Time Spent With Gunmen Trio

CARROLL, Ia. — What's it like when three masked gunmen force their way into your home late at night, threaten you and your children, and carry out a major robbery?

Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Malone can tell about this vividly. It happened to them and their four children Saturday night. This is the way it was.

Mr. and Mrs. Malone had just returned home after he closed his food market. Their children, Barry, 15, Kathleen, 6, and Mickey, 4, were in bed upstairs. Diane, 2, was in bed downstairs.

The parents decided to have a bedtime snack. A steak was sizzling on the kitchen stove. The door bell rang.

"I went to the door and turned on the porchlight switch," Malone said. "The light didn't go on. I hesitated . . . The bell rang a second time — more urgently. I thought it must be a neighbor in trouble. It was raining hard. I opened the door.

All Three Aimed "A man pushed his way in, pointing a gun at me and ordered me to 'stand back and there'll be no more trouble.' He was followed by two more, all holding .45 automatic pistols.

"I doubled up my fists and said, 'Yes, there will be trouble' but my wife restrained me."

All three men wore nylon stockings pulled down over their faces, giving them a grotesque look. All wore the same kind of coveralls, coats, hats and gloves. They had removed the porch light bulb before they entered.

Malone continued: "The leader asked if I had a key to the store, and I said that I did. Then he wanted to know if I had the combination to the safe anywhere around. I said I knew it by heart. He said, 'let's go' and two of them led me out the back door to the garage."

Guns In Ribs "One of them . . . got in behind the wheel and the other got in the back seat. The one behind put a gun against my neck and the one doing the driving held a gun in my ribs.

"They drove directly to the store. One stayed in the car with the lights out and the motor running. The other went to the door, ordering me to get it open quick.

"Inside I went to the safe and started to work the combination. By that time I was trembling all over . . .

"He grabbed the money and on the way out ordered me to get the door locked fast and we returned to the car and headed back home.

"They worked fast when we got back. One of them said they would tie us all up and tape us. I pleaded with him not to do that because I wanted to visit my mother at Lincoln, Neb., on Mother's Day.

"He said, 'well, then give us 45 minutes', ripped the phone off the wall, and all three went outside.

"I remembered I didn't have my car keys and went out to the garage . . . and saw the car was still there. I saw a car approaching . . . I thought they were coming back . . .

"I ran into the house and told my wife to lock all the doors that they might be coming back. But they didn't and she ran for the neighbors to turn in the alarm."

Hennings Asks For 'Adequate' Flood Funds

WASHINGTON, Mo. — "Adequate" appropriations for Missouri flood control projects were urged Tuesday by Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) to prevent "millions of dollars of damages."

Hennings in a statement for the Senate public works appropriations subcommittee said there should be a workable plan to coordinate federal and state activities in coping with droughts and floods.

"It must be a long-range plan which will conserve our land and water resources and protect our people against the devastating effects of drought and flood," he said.

He recalled that he has introduced legislation to establish a Missouri River basin commission and interstate compact board to help safeguard land and water resources in the basin.

Until such legislation is passed, he added, it is important that many projects in the Missouri River basin and in Missouri be given sufficient funds "to carry out this vitally needed work."

Hennings also urged these appropriations in addition to others recommended in the budget.

Appropriation of $2,500,000 for agricultural levees on the Missouri above Kansas City, or $800,000 over budget requests.

Five million dollars for bank stabilization on the Missouri and two million to begin work on agricultural levees below Kansas City.

Rev. Schopp, 69, Dies; Services Slated Wednesday

WEST POINT, Neb. — Funeral services for the Rev. Francis G. Schopp, 69, pastor of St. Boniface Church in Monterey, will be held Wednesday.

Born at Leigen, Westphalia, Germany, Father Schopp was adopted for priestly service in the Diocese of Omaha while studying theology at the University of Friburg, Switzerland. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1912 and came to U.S. immediately, with his first assignment as assistant at St. Mary's in Osmund, Neb.

He was given his appointment at Monterey in 1942 after serving in Nebraska at Randolph, Snyder, Crofton, Petersburg and Olean and at St. Anthony's, Sarrville, Wis.

One Gallon of Sinclair Power-X Gasoline Could Lift the Ocean Liner "United States"

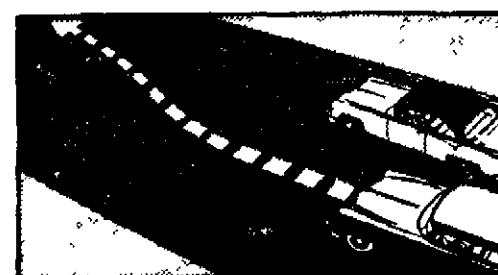

In your car, Sinclair Power-X gives RESERVE POWER WHEN YOU NEED IT

It's a scientific fact! The potential energy in a single gallon of Sinclair Power-X Premium Gasoline, if fully utilized, could lift a weight equal to the S.S. "United States" 10 inches. This tremendous energy, when applied to your car, can mean reserve power when you need it — for safer driving.

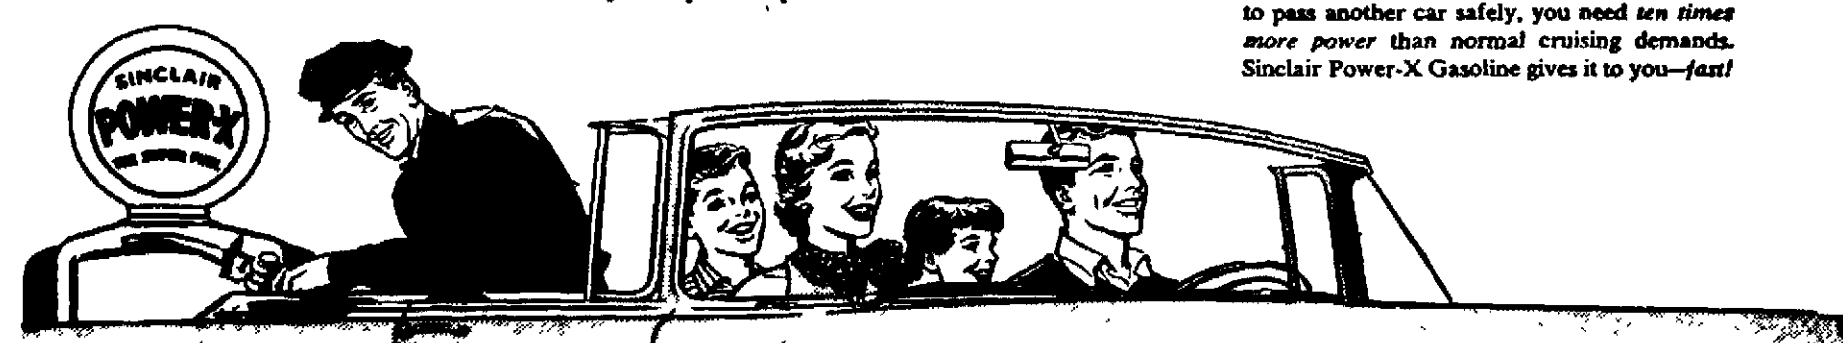

When compared with ordinary gasoline and oil, tests show that Power-X Gasoline, used in combination with Sinclair Extra Duty Triple X Motor Oil, can give you over 20% more useable power in your car.

You get this extra power because of Sinclair's new high-octane refining methods, plus chemical elements added to prevent stalling and guard against fuel system rust. For highest anti-knock, quick acceleration and reserve power when you need it — for safer driving — see your Sinclair Dealer and power up with Power-X.

For Safer Passing! For quick acceleration to pass another car safely, you need ten times more power than normal cruising demands. Sinclair Power-X Gasoline gives it to you—fast!

Price Prop 'Prosperity' Idea 'Cruel Hoax'—Benson

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said Tuesday night "it is cruel hoax upon farmers" to suggest—in this election year or at any time—that agriculture can be legislated into prosperity through higher farm price supports.

"Farmers have never enjoyed a high level of income as a direct consequence of any price support program," he said.

"But I emphasize that any such increase is only temporary," he added. "Prices for your produce can be artificially increased—if the consequences are disregarded. But when the prices are pushed so artificially high that they lead to surpluses, to loss of markets and then to controls, your real welfare as a farmer has been hurt rather than helped."

Refer To Veto

Benson made these remarks in referring to legislation vetoed last month by President Eisenhower, that would have restored high rigid supports of the World War II and postwar era.

He said that before a sound basis can be established for agriculture, present farm surpluses must be disposed of. He said oversupplies are "smothering" what he called sound measures authorized by the administration-sponsored Farm Act of 1954—the one instituting flexible price supports.

Benson said a soil bank plan currently recommended by Eisenhower and now pending in Congress would provide an "emergency, one-shot program to get rid of the surpluses."

Help Use Surpluses

Under this plan, the government would pay farmers for taking part of their land out of production. Such cutbacks would be designed to make room for surpluses to move into use.

In discussing price supports, Benson said it has been administration policy to hold price support at the highest level possible without accumulating new surpluses or bringing on new controls.

The society awarded Benson a gold medal for service to agriculture.

Gen. Wood To Be Speaker

McCOOK, Neb. — Maj. Gen. Warren C. Wood, commander of the 34th Infantry Division of the Iowa National Guard, will speak at the dedication of the National Guard armory here Saturday.

Maj. Gen. Guy N. Henninger, adjutant general of the Nebraska National Guard, and other civic and service officials are expected to attend.

McCook Mayor Mannie Reynolds will speak and the McCook High School orchestra will take part in the program.

An open house will follow the ceremony and a dedication ball will be held here in the evening.

MRS. ROCHMAN GETS AWARD FOR STUDY

... In Journalism

Mrs. Shirley Rosenberg Rochman of Lincoln is recipient of the $1,000 J. C. Seacrest Scholarship awarded annually by the Cooper Foundation in memory of the late publisher of The Lincoln Journal.

The award goes to a University of Nebraska journalism student for advanced study. Mrs. Rochman, a York High School graduate who will receive her B.A. degree in June, hopes to work in public relations and advertising and plans to take graduate courses in sociology and psychology.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, she also belongs to Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, and Sigma Delta Tau sorority and is past president of Tassels, women's pep organization.

She is a member of three journalism societies, Theta Sigma Phi, Kappa Tau Alpha and Gamma Alpha Chi.

Mrs. Rochman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rosenberg of Lincoln.

Penner Elected Head Of York Lions Club

Other officers include LaVern Peterson, first vice president; Gene Osborn, second vice president; Dick Durling, third vice president; John Lindell, secretary-treasurer; Nile Walther, tail twister; and Ken Ellenwood, lion tamer.

Marilyn tells why she quit Hollywood!

Marilyn Monroe was sure of fame and fortune in Hollywood. She was one of the most talked-about, most photographed women of our times. Why then did she turn her back on Hollywood to study long hair acting in New York? Is she serious about acting in tragedies on Broadway?

This week she gives the answers to Pete Martin. You'll find them—word for word—in the Post. And don't miss the real story on Marilyn's brief marriage to Joe DiMaggio. Get your copy of the Post today and read "The New Marilyn Monroe."

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST
A QUINCY MAGAZINE

but TODAY!

CONOCO Super Gasoline with TCP!

YESSIR! MILLIONS OF MOTORISTS KNOW THAT TCP* DELIVERS UP TO 15% MORE POWER...GREATER GAS MILEAGE... LONGER SPARK-PLUG LIFE... AND, IT'S JUST LIKE AN ENGINE TUNE-UP!

TCP IS MADE-TO-ORDER FOR ALL OF TODAY'S HIGH-COMPRESSION ENGINES...AND IT HELPS BRING BACK 'NEW CAR' POWER TO OLDER CARS, TOO! IT'S STILL THE GREATEST GASOLINE DEVELOPMENT IN 31 YEARS!

"Team up" the Super-Twins...for POWER plus PROTECTION!

"Use Conoco Super with TCP for full-time power! TCP is the astonishing discovery that neutralizes power-robbing lead and carbon deposits which form on spark plugs and in combustion chambers!"

"For full-time protection, use Conoco Super, the all-season motor oil in the can with the gold band. Like a magnet, Oil-Plating*... a Conoco exclusive... conquers friction by clinging to engine surfaces!"

"Team up" for extra benefits

Today, start using both Super products and get:

- A big decrease in surface ignition.
- Faster, safer, smoother starts.
- Maximum power from your high-octane fuel.
- A cleaner, more responsive engine... one that gives you full power every mile you drive!

Wheat Continues To Hold Own, But Moisture Needed

Winter wheat maintained its condition during the past week, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported in its weekly crop-weather report.

Except for part of eastern Nebraska, precipitation in the wheat belt was light during the past week, the bureau said. Summer fallow wheat in the Panhandle is promising, the reported stated, but part of the summer fallow wheat in southwestern Nebraska is short of subsoil moisture. Wheat is still holding well but most of the crop needs moisture, it was revealed.

Approximately 8 per cent of the corn had been planted by May 12 compared with 21 per cent planted at this time a year ago. The delay in seeding is due mostly to cold weather and to lack of soil moisture. There is a general hesitancy on the part of farmers, the bureau said, to plant corn when there is such a deficiency of subsoil moisture. In some areas, surface soil moisture is lacking for quick germination of seed.

Cold Delays Growth
Oats and barley show some improvement in condition, the report indicated, but cold weather, along with lack of moisture, is delaying normal growth. There was very little change shown in the condition of alfalfa, wild hay and pasture. While warm weather during the past week has stimulated growth, a combination of precipitation and normal temperatures would be of material benefit to hay and pasture feeds.

Other bureau comments included: Some sugar beets are up in the western part of the state, but high winds caused some damage by soil erosion. Recent rain, however, will benefit all crops in the Panhandle and relieve the dry top soil condition.

Pastures Improve
The spring soil moisture survey, taken throughout the state in winter wheat fields and completed the first week of the month, shows more surface soil moisture than a year earlier, but this was a result of the late April rains. The average depth of moisture—42.5 inches—while about the same as a year ago, did not have the degree of saturation in the subsoil that was present last spring.

Warmer temperatures and much needed precipitation has improved the pasture outlook. However, new growth is being grazed off about as fast as it appears, in many instances where farmers were forced to turn on pastures because of lack of feed.

Precipitation for the week ending Monday included:

Lewis Appointed To Feeders Board

BETTENDORF, Ia. (AP)—Two more members of the National Livestock Promotion Board have been appointed by the Corn Belt Livestock Feeders' Assn. J. C. Holbert of Bettendorf, board chairman, said Tuesday.

They are Glen Lewis, Exeter, Neb., and Knut L. Johnson, Elburn, Ill. This brings to 12 the number of appointments by livestock and agricultural organizations to the board. Nine more are to be named by sheep and agricultural organizations.

The board's job will be to promote greater consumption of meat. It will be financed by deductions from producers' checks when they market their livestock.

Rail Crossing Accident Kills Bayard Driver

BAYARD, Neb. (AP)—Reinhold Brenning, 30, Bayard, was killed Tuesday in a crash at a Burlington Railroad crossing about 2 miles southeast of Bayard. Morrill County Sheriff Earl Yocum said Brenning's car and a Burlington passenger train were both traveling west at a point where the road parallels the track. The crash occurred at the point where the road makes a sudden turn crossing the track. Brenning, a Sioux Ordinance Dept. worker, was unmarried. His death brought to 103 Nebraska's 1956 traffic death toll. A year ago on the same date it was 106.

Schwanner Heads State Optometrists

OMAHA (AP)—Dr. Robert Schwanner of Scottsbluff Tuesday was elected president of the Nebraska Optometric Assn.

Named as vice presidents were Dr. E. P. Heinrich, Lincoln; Dr. Donald Fox, Falls City; Dr. V. L. Hyble, Ainsworth; and Dr. J. S. Stanard, Aurora.

Dr. W. A. Koeber, Wayne, was elected secretary-treasurer. The auxiliary elected Mrs. Harry Gildersleeve, O'Neill, as president.

Thomas E. Schwanner, 30, is a market place of available property. Run by Schwanner, a well-known Lincoln man, the building is a well-known Lincoln man.

Crete Guard Armory Under Consideration

CRETE, Neb. — The Crete City Council has scheduled a special meeting for May 22 to discuss the building, but would have to sell it before a new site could be purchased.

Councilmen scheduled the special meeting so that property owners within a radius of 500 yards of the project may attend and hear details of the proposed building.

If Crete provides the property money for the building will come from the government armory construction funds.

The Crete unit already has more than the needed number of guardsmen to warrant the construction. Councilmen have indicated they would investigate street, sewer and electrical requirements and coming ordinance of the Guard before authorizing the purchase of the new site.

Mayor Ray Beggs indicated that the project would be decided definitely before the end of the fiscal year in June.

$100,000 School Issue On Ballot

GURLEY, Neb. (AP)—Voters will go to the polls here June 5 to decide whether $100,000 in bonds shall be issued for expansion of the present school building. The bond issue would cover construction of four classrooms and shop facilities.

16 REPORTEDLY ESCAPE

OTTAWA (AP)—A Canadian Air Force jet fighter rammed into a Roman Catholic convent for convalescent nuns Tuesday night and about 20 persons were believed to have died in the flaming wreckage.

The dead included the two-man crew of the RCAF CF-100 and a priest, the convent's chaplain. The rest were nuns of the order of the Grey Nuns of the Cross.

-Russ Arms Cut- U.S. Will Continue On Guard

Moscow Outback Won't Lessen Reds' A-Punch

By ED CREEGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary Dulles and Wilson declared Tuesday the United States must keep its guard up despite Russia's announced intention to slash its armed forces by 1,200,000 men.

Dulles expressed the view the cut would not materially reduce the Soviet's power to wage atomic war and might even increase it. Men taken out of uniform could be put to work making nuclear weapons, the secretary of state said.

Secretary of Defense Wilson said the Russian move would not, by itself, "justify any appreciable change in our present military strength." Nor, he said, would it justify changes "in our present programs for cooperating with our Allies in the defense of the Free World."

AF Officials Concur

Similar views were voiced by officials of the Air Force. Dulles said the United States "welcomes" the Soviet announcement "if this proves to be an evidence of an intent to forego the use of force in international affairs."

Similarly Wilson said the Russian announcement "would seem to be a step in the right direction."

He told a questioner that "one way they could demonstrate their intentions" would be to subscribe to the United States proposal for mutual inspection of military might.

Secretary of the Air Force Quarles and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, joined Dulles in urging that the Soviet announcement of plans be treated with extreme caution until all the facts are known.

Scattered, Light Showers Forecast

Scattered light showers were expected Wednesday with highs ranging from 65 to 70 in the northeast to the 70s in the southwest, the Weather Bureau predicted.

The forecaster called for cooler in the north and east Thursday under partly cloudy skies.

Temperature-wise, the Wednesday forecast was for a day much like Tuesday, when Lincoln and Lincoln Air Force Base both reported the state high of 67 degrees.

Very light rain showers were reported at Ainsworth Tuesday. Chadron had .01 of an inch and a trace was reported at Valentine, North Platte, Norfolk and Scottsbluff.

18 Injured
CHICAGO (INS)—A Chicago Transit Authority bus and a south suburban bus crashed on Chicago's South Side causing minor injuries to 18 of the 57 passengers.

Eugene Simpson, 33, the CTA bus driver, was charged with running a red light.

... In Governor Race

By The Associated Press

Mounting returns from Tuesday's primary election gave Nebraska Republican Governor Victor E. Anderson and Democrat Frank Sorrell of Syracuse unbeatable leads over their opponents.

With returns in from 1,110 of the state's 2,127 precincts, including some incomplete precinct returns in Douglas and Lancaster counties, Anderson was leading Edwin L. Hart, Lincoln plastics company owner, 37,987 to 8,368 and Sorrell, making his third try for the governorship was leading Ted Baum of Scottsbluff 19,787 to 7,841.

Bureau Has Lead

State Senator Dwight Burney of Hartington who has been acting lieutenant governor since the death of Charles Warner, held a slight lead over Carl G. Swanson of Omaha in the Republican contest for the lieutenant governor nomination. Marvin Griswold, Lincoln businessman, was running in third place and Ernest M. Johnson of Chadron was trailing.

Attorney General Clarence S. Beck, seeking his fourth term, was leading Straight Townsend of Scottsbluff about 3 to 1.

In the five man contest for the Republican nomination for railway commissioner, Wayne R. Swanson of Omaha was running in front of the field. He was followed by Fred Sorenson of Omaha, Charles Vogt Jr. of Liberty, Paul Pettigrove of Oxford, incumbent commissioner by appointment and William R. Milner of Omaha.

In the Democratic lieutenant governorship contest Harry Anderson of Omaha and Stanley D. Long of Grand Island, the 1954 nominee, were running a close race with George E. Cornwell of Omaha trailing.

RR Commission

J. C. McReynolds of Lincoln held a slight lead over R. A. McPherson of Omaha for the Railway Commission nomination. This is McReynolds' fifth try for the commission post.

In the Democratic treasurer race Richard R. Larsen, the 1954 nominee was ahead with Albert L. Geissinger of Omaha, operator of a paint and sporting goods store, and Donald E. Larson, Omaha real estate broker.

Republican Secretary of State Frank Marsh, Republican Auditor Ray C. Johnson and Republican Treasurer Ralph W. Hill were unopposed as was V. C. Havorka, Democratic candidate for Secretary of State.

In the Democratic auditor's race Julius Peterson of Omaha, was running far ahead of Alfred J. Anzalone.

The Weather

Graham Still Balks At Appeal; Execution Set For August

His Attorney Is Told To Go To High Court

... By Trial Judge

DENVER (AP) — John Gilbert Graham, convicted of committing murder by blowing up an airliner, lost ground Tuesday in his stubborn demand that he be executed as soon as possible.

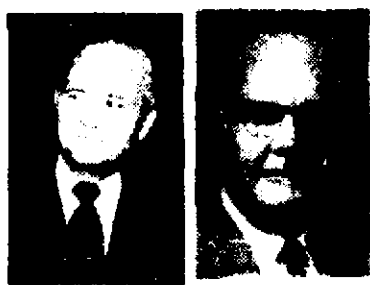

Graham

But Judge Joseph M. McDonald, who had sentenced him, ordered the court appointed attorneys to ask the Colorado Supreme Court what should be done.

Unprecedented This order, unprecedented in Colorado court history, "amounts to an appeal for all practical purposes," said a defense attorney. Court attaches said the papers would be ready for filing in a few days. If the Supreme Court accepts jurisdiction, then it could order an appeal and issue a stay of execution. If not, then the execution would go ahead as scheduled.

Graham had been convicted of murder for the death of his mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King, one of those who died in the explosion and flaming crash of a United Airlines plane near Longmont, Colo., last Nov. 1.

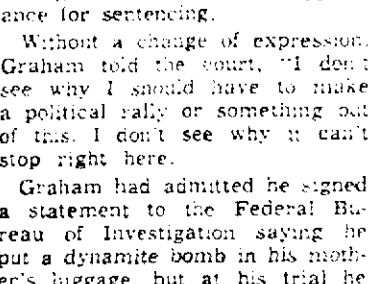

"I accept the verdict of the jury and desire that it be carried out with convenient speed," Graham said after his conviction 10 days ago and he stuck to that line all

Vote Followed Expectations

In some respects, the results of state-wide races in Lancaster County ran true to expected form.

With a substantial majority of voters registered on the Republican side, President Eisenhower gathered 10,646 votes as compared to 4,349 for Democratic presidential hopeful Sen. Estes Kefauver.

In other results, Lancaster County Republicans gave Gov. Victor E. Anderson 8,474 votes as compared to Edwin L. Hart's 2,755 which eliminates Hart from the race.

On the Democratic side for governor, the numbers so far as Lancaster County was concerned was Frank Sorrell with 3,829 votes as compared with 1,316 for Ted Bann.

Unexpected in some quarters was the 2,652 votes received in Lancaster by Samuel Freeman as compared to 1,999 for Clair A. Callan for the Democratic representative in Congress from the First District.

For lieutenant governor on the Republican side, Lancaster voted for Dwight W. Burney with 4,244 votes. Lancaster voted as his opponent in the general election Stanley D. Long who won 2,440 votes from Democratic voters.

In the Republican race for Congress in the first district, it was Paul Weaver with 7,409 votes to win his party's nomination over Richard W. Johnson with 3,179 votes.

Other Lancaster winners in the state-wide races: Republican, secretary of state, Frank Marsh, 1,013 votes. Republican, auditor, Ray C. Johnson, 9,781 votes.

Republican, treasurer, Ralph W. Hill, 8,671 votes. Republican, attorney general, Clarence S. Beck, 8,242 votes.

Republican, railway commissioner, Fred Sorensen, 2,433 votes. Democrat, secretary of state, V. C. Havorka Sr., 4,296 votes.

Democrat, auditor, Julius Petersen, 3,414 votes. Democrat, treasurer, Richard R. Larsen, 1,906 votes.

School Issue Loses At Polk Lincoln Star Special

POLK, Neb. — In a hotly contested race here, Polk voters Tuesday rejected a $248,000 school bond proposal by a vote of 233 against to 216 for.

This was the first vote on the issue. The funds would have been used for the construction of a new high school building.

The turnout of voters was described as very good.

Central City OKs Hospital Bonds

CENTRAL CITY, Neb. — A $150,000 hospital bond issue was approved in Tuesday's election.

Election officials reported 1,173 votes for and 843 against the proposal with 14 of 15 precincts reporting. Results in the other precinct will not change the outcome, they reported.

Incumbent Republican County Supervisors B. H. Ferguson, Marion Marsh and William Wiegert were unopposed for four-year terms.

...In Contract Plans

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steel Workers Wage Policy Committee Tuesday handed union negotiators a draft of 22 demands to be made on a busy, profit-making steel industry in 1956 contract bargaining.

The demands touch on almost every phase of the existing contract and among other things seek a "substantial" wage increase, premium pay for Saturday and Sunday work, and supplemental unemployment benefits.

USW President David J. McDonald said the program is "reasonable" in view of the steel industry's present profit record. Most of the big basic producers reported record earnings for the first quarter of the year.

Secret Session
The 170-member Wage Policy Committee met in secret session for two days to formalize the demands. The committee did not put a dollar and cents value on the package.

The demands will be presented to 172 basic steel firms and iron ore mining companies whose contracts expire at midnight June 30. The union would be free to strike then if agreements are not reached.

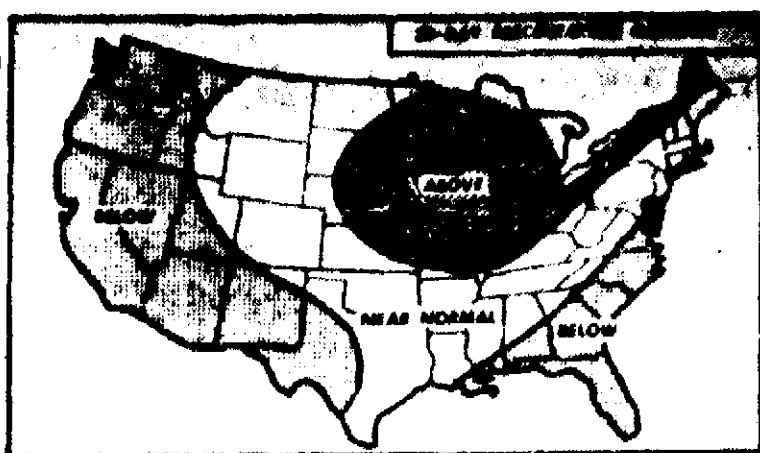

McDonald said the issues were discussed "exuberantly" and "approved unanimously," he added: "These are reasonable contract proposals. I hope the companies with whom we negotiate will cooperate with us in bringing about an early date new labor contracts."

Goodrich Leading In Fillmore Race

Lincoln Star Special
GENEVA, Neb. — With two out of three precincts reporting, Willard Goodrich, incumbent, was leading his opponent Clyde Jacobson 71 to 55 for nomination as Republican candidate for Fillmore County supervisor, District 2. Alfred J. Quick, Democratic candidate, for the same post, had no opposition.

Norman Wright, incumbent, won the Republican nomination for county supervisor District 6. He will oppose Herman Kleen, Democrat, in the November election.

Guy A. Hamilton, incumbent, was trailing his opponent Ray L. Cellar 437 to 506 in the race for county judge with 15 out of 21 precincts reporting.

This map, based on one issued Tuesday by the U. S. Weather Bureau, shows the probable precipitation outlook for the period between May 15 and June 15. Most of Nebraska, all except the western part, lies within the "above average" moisture area. (AP Wirephoto Map).

Gov. Long Avoids Talk Of Presidential Politics

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Gov. Earl K. Long, 60, pledged in his inaugural speech Tuesday Louisiana will get "a square deal" and said there may be some new taxes.

The brother of the late Sen. Huey P. Long outdid Huey by becoming the first governor in state history to serve three times.

Although National Democratic Chairman Paul Butler was an honored guest at the inauguration, Long avoided any mention of presidential politics.

Also, he skipped any talk on the ever-present segregation issue. He is a moderate on that subject.

Long is still warm toward Adlai Stevenson, whom he supported in 1952. But he hasn't committed himself.

Butler said he came here "because the Democratic National committee feels the inauguration of Gov. Long marks the resurgence of loyal Democrats, not only in Louisiana, but in the South."

DAVID CITY, Neb. — In the lone contest on the Butler County ticket in Tuesday's primary election, J. L. Vavrina, incumbent, led his opponents for nomination as the Democratic candidate for county supervisor, sixth district.

Vavrina polled 266 votes, compared with 62 votes for Albin Soukup and 186 for Joseph Rolenc. There were no candidates on the Republican ticket for county supervisor, sixth district.

Plane Crash Kills Eight

... 'Buried In Mud'

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Six executives of a Chicago business firm and two crew members were killed Tuesday when a twin-engine company plane crashed on an Indiana farm while attempting an emergency landing.

The plane literally buried itself in muddy land. Removal of the bodies took almost two hours.

No Hint of Trouble
Eleven minutes out of Louisville's Standiford Field, the pilot made a routine radio contact with the tower, giving no indication of trouble.

A private pilot had telephoned police before the crash that a plane was in trouble and circling for an emergency landing.

The Crane Co. of Chicago identified the victims as:

J. A. McMurtry, director of branches.
J. A. Dwyer, vice president.
George L. Erwin, vice president.

Charles E. Townner, assistant to the vice president in charge of heating.
G. G. Lindholm, a departmental manager.

Robert Robinette, copilot.

A light rain was falling but visibility was good.

Witnesses said there was a "terrible explosion" when the plane hit. There was no fire.

Margaret, Prince Christian Hinted Near Engagement

LONDON (Wednesday) (AP) — The Daily Express quoted German-born prince Christian of Hanover today as saying "I can neither confirm nor deny" rumors that he and Britain's Princess Margaret will announce their engagement. They are distant cousins, both descended from Queen Victoria.

A Buckingham Palace spokesman declined any comment. This is standard procedure in matters involving the private affairs of the royal family.

The Daily Mail also took note of the engagement rumors but said it "understands there is no truth in these reports."

Christian, 35, is a brother of Greece's Queen Frederika and a great-grandson of Queen Victoria.

Loving Good Black Earth

Polster Gallup reports that the Eisenhower billion-dollar soil bank program is likely to meet a lukewarm reception from the average midwestern farmer.

First of all, Gallup claims, the farmer doesn't understand the soil bank plan. It never has been explained to him. He tends to think of it as another attempt by government to tell him what to do. Secondly, Gallup says, the administration has taken an unrealistic point of view about the amount of money the midwestern farmer thinks is fair to take his land out of production. The average corn grower expects $60 an acre to take good land out of production, considerably more than Brother Benson, and over him, like are willing to pay. It takes three paragraphs, however, and a couple of hundred words from Brother Gallup to really get down to business, and then apparently as an afterthought. "In addition, the farmer is inherently opposed to taking lands out of production," Gallup says. And who did everything under the sun to fan farm resentment against taking land out of production if it were not Republican leadership? All through the Roosevelt years, the burden of the Republican song was the unfairness of taking land out of production. And now, in the good old vernacular, chickens have come home to roost.

There is a little bit more, however, than a political origin for this feeling of hostility to taking land out of production. There is a swelling pride in the breast of any true farmer when he looks over his fields of wheat turning yellow in advance of the harvest, or in the coolness of the early morning experiences the satisfaction provided by lush sturdy fields of corn. Important as the dollar is, there is something more that holds the farmer to his land. We can describe it as love for good black earth or by any other words we choose, but it is real and its roots go deep.

Back To Communism

Five young seamen, first interned by the Nationalist Chinese, later seeking asylum in the United States, have returned to Communist Russia.

Their relatively brief experience with life in the United States did not convince them that here would be the best place to spend the rest of their days. In some manner their zest for our type of free life died. They walked away from it. They chose to return to their people despite the uncertainty of whether the return would result in welcome or punishment.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

This newspaper believes wholeheartedly in the right of dissent not only as one of the most valuable but one of the most cherished of American freedoms. It has been the blessed opportunity for the free, uncensored exchange of conflicting ideas that has given America an unsurpassed vitality and virility as a leader in the world of free men. Thanks to this through the years man discovered and explored the path to self government. It is with pride and the deepest satisfaction, then, that this paper welcomes the fine statement by Chancellor Cliff Hardin of the University of Nebraska on the question of academic freedom on the campus of the state's great educational institution.

Of course there has been no gap nor curb upon freedom of discussion on the university campus. Anyone who has been reading with any measure of thoughtfulness, recent issues of the university publication, must have been impressed with the generosity, forbearance and patience of the administration under what, in this chair, appeared at times to be a loose approach to discussion of a highly controversial character.

Full Freedom Of Expression

I thought Prof. Frederick Beutel performed a genuine service in pointing out that the fullness of discussion carried on in The Nebraskan was a full complete answer to charges that academic freedom was being infringed upon. Dr. Hardin's statement goes further in clarifying the atmosphere. Under university rules, he points out, two standing committees elected by the University Senate (faculty members) are provided for the express purpose of receiving complaints which bear upon academic freedom and intra-institutional relationships. "My grave concern over the repeated assertions regarding the administration's attitudes and actions prompted me to consult with the members of both of these committees: the Committee on Academic Privilege, and the Liaison Committee. The purpose of my inquiry was to learn whether either of these faculty agencies or any of their members had received complaints of a nature similar to those reported as widespread by The Nebraskan. Neither committee or any of the members had received any such complaint."

There it is in plain, simple, understandable language. Those words should be read most thoughtfully by any friend of the University of Nebraska. Here are two committees created by the university faculty itself for the specific purpose of receiving complaints relative to infringement upon academic privilege and upon intra-institutional relationships. In spite of widespread charges, neither committee nor any member of either committee has received a complaint.

A paragraph equally refreshing, reassuring and comforting concludes Chancellor Hardin's statement on academic freedom. Again, the thoughtful Nebraskan is invited to read it word by word and take inspiration from it. This is the paragraph: "On our campus, our aim is not merely of divergent opinions. Our aim is and should be to welcome them. The free exchange of ideas is essential to the good health of this or any other university. Never in my opinion, are the best interests of the university served by the violation of academic freedom. If there is any place within our society where conflicting ideas and opinions must be expressed, it is on our university campuses. The only limitation—if limitations there be—are those already expressed in our own university policy: The 'responsibilities of citizenship' and 'the precepts of scholarship and faithful performance of other academic responsibilities.' What more is there to be said by those who cherish and actually understand freedom? If there is to be freedom, we submit, there of necessity must be a gifted intuitive sense of individual responsibility. We who would be free, must fashion our own pattern of common sense and responsibility to all of our fellow men. We would not want to live in a world where there is a denial of the free exchange and the free expression of ideas. Which to us simply adds one other ingredient to a complex modern world of swift change and uncensored communication.

That is man's faith in each other—men's faith in the decent purposes of each other, although granted that at times those purposes conflict with their own stately held ideas. But if we are to build—if we're to advance—if we are to enjoy a better society here in America, then it goes without saying that we must extend to each other some semblance of faith. Without faith, we are lost. With faith, we accomplish miracles in understanding and progress.

DREW PEARSON

Indonesia Chief Visitor To USA

WASHINGTON — The welcome accorded foreign dignitaries as they drive down elm-shaded Constitution Avenue was never more important than today when President Eisenhower receives the president of the youngest but third largest republic in the world—Soekarno of Indonesia.

President Soekarno has been a bit nervous about this trip, just as his country has been nervous about the precarious political path it has trod in these days when every eastern nation is besieged and beleaguered by Communism.

It was the U.S.A., as he and other Indonesians well remember, which played such a large part in winning independence for the young republic. The battle cries that inspired the Indonesian revolution against the long colonial rule of the Dutch were similar to those of 1776. Indonesian patriots even featured pictures of George Washington and Thomas Jefferson on banners and postage stamps.

The final coup d'etat in winning Indonesian independence occurred when Matt Fox, New York motion picture executive and friend of Indonesia, together with Joseph K. Borlin of Washington, moved to cut off Marshall plan funds to the Dutch if those funds were used in the war against Indonesia. Since then, Borlin has sometimes been called by Indonesians "The American father of Indonesian independence." He shares paternity with Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine, now retired, who circulated the Senate petition to cut off Dutch funds. That's part of the story behind President Eisenhower's gesture in sending his personal plane all the way to Hawaii this week to bring the president of one of the key republics of the Far East to Washington.

INDONESIAN MERRY GO-ROUND

Indonesia is a major oil source, the second producer of tin in the world and first in the production of rubber, quinine and black pepper — Indonesia has a multi-party political system and a constitution guaranteeing freedom of speech, press, religion and equal rights for men and women of all races. The major parties are Muslim, Nationalist, Socialist, Catholic and Labor. Soekarno (he doesn't use a formal first name) is an anti-Communist independent. A former engineer, 54-years old, he was jailed several times by the Dutch for "revolutionary" activity. Under the Dutch, his country had a shocking death and illiteracy rate, but Soekarno has reduced both. A political progressive, Soekarno claims to be the first president of an "Islamic" republic in Indonesia, a nation with a God-honoring, Islamic, national motto, democracy and social justice. Soekarno sums it up: "The belief in God and free choice of religion affirms the Democratic principle of freedom of worship. Democracy gains strength and meaning when it is coupled with social justice in economic matters. These two, in turn, are incomplete without a humanitarian regard for the rights and interests of one's fellow man."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Overseas Air Rate Cut Eyed

WASHINGTON — The rush of American tourists going abroad is already on in a volume both for the number of individuals and for the dollars they spend that will set a new record this year. Steamships are booked solid into the late summer and it is becoming difficult to get an airplane reservation.

What is happening is that a sector of the public that would never have dreamed of going to Europe or South America today is being persuaded by lower fares, the seductive travel agent and the quick crossing by plane to venture for the first time out of the country.

In 1929, the peak travel year before World War II, 517,000 Americans went overseas and spent $693,000,000.

In 1954, the latest full year for which there are estimates, the number was 912,000, spending $1,336,000,000. On the basis of the half-year estimate available for 1955 — 514,000 tourists spending $705,000,000 — the number of individuals was well over a million and the money spent $1,400,000,000. Thus the total has doubled since 1929, while the population was increasing by roughly one-third.

But there are indications that the surface has hardly been scratched and that, with lower fares and more facilities, the overseas tourist trade will double again perhaps even double again within a decade. North American Airlines, which pioneered domestic air coach service and has been struggling to get a foot in the door for scheduled as against non-schedule service, applied to the Civil Aeronautics Board for a permit to fly from Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York to Luxembourg for a one-way tourist fare of $145 to $158.

The start this caused the air industry can be imagined in view of the fact that the one-way tourist fare to Paris is now $310. Not long afterward, both Trans World Airlines and Pan American World Airways announced they would ask the International Air Transport Association to sanction lowered fares for certain types of service.

Luxembourg, which has not had direct service from America, is delighted at the prospect and the government has now proposed that a bilateral agreement be negotiated which would permit a Luxembourg airline to come to the United States. Picturesque Luxembourg, central to most capitals, has one of the best airports in Europe.

The key to overseas fares is held by the International Air Transport Association, to which the airlines of every country belong. Director general of IATA is Sir William Percival Hildreth. A witness recently before a House subcommittee looking into the cartel-monopoly aspects of air ratemaking, Sir William was charming, affable but somewhat evasive.

He was asked why it is possible to fly air coach from New York to Los Angeles, roughly 2,500 miles, for $60 while the New York Paris flight, about 3,200 miles, costs $310. The following exchange occurred with Representative James M. Quigley, Democrat of Pennsylvania.

Sir William: The answer is that the terrific development here, the expertness, has produced a wonderful thing. I hope we can match it, but give us a chance.

But members of the House committee were not satisfied with Sir William's explanation that rates had to be kept high for the benefit of the Swiss, Swedes, Spanish, Italians and French.

Nor were senators interrogating members of the Civil Aeronautics Board satisfied with their replies at an appropriation hearing.

Senator Margaret Chase Smith, Republican of Maine, wanted to know why there should be so many obstacles in the way of granting North American's application to fly at a reduced rate to Luxembourg.

You seem, she remarked after listening to CAB members, to be more interested in the airline companies than in the traveling public. Senator Edward Thye, Republican of Minnesota wanted to know why it should cost more than twice as much to fly over water as over land.

The pressure to reduce fares both on routes at home and overseas will become irresistible in view of fairly conclusive evidence that it is not the cost factor which keeps them where they are today.

Despite the growth of the past decade, something new is a revolution in travel is in sight. A new type of steamship is being designed that will provide minimum service for a five or six day crossing to Europe at a one-way cost that may be as low as $125 to $140. The grand tour to Europe is no longer for the privileged few of wealth. It is in sight for literally millions of Americans.

A Parallel

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: As a physicist I should not write about how an agricultural college should be handled. But I must say I have a certain familiarity with the kind of controversy which led to Clyde Mitchell's demotion. It brought me back to my student days and it gave me a terrific respect for my father (even though youngsters often think of their dads' views pretty critically). He was the regent of our state agricultural college in Germany and appointed as director Dr. F. Aereboe, a brilliant man who was very much like Clyde Mitchell. We all learned a great deal from Aereboe, and I attended his classes when later he taught (until 1933) at the University of Berlin in pre-Nazi Germany.

The first thing I learned was that it is a prime function of a college of agriculture to discuss and examine farm policy, and that of course involves controversy. A school which shies away from that becomes stagnant and useless. And it deprives its students of the pep and insight which come from a respect for the free enterprise of ideas, as Don Moore called it.

The next thing I learned from Aereboe was that farm policy and economics should be directed towards the stability of the economy of the independent farmer. Once he becomes the unprotected prey to small business fluctuations, we are losing one of the soundest and most valuable segments of our population.

And last but not least, I learned that a good agricultural policy can have enormous constructive influence on international relations. The basic answer to farm surpluses is to use them to step into acute famine areas. Billions spent on that in a well-planned program makes sense. Peace and international understanding grow on charity and humility, not on pity with the starving, not on pride about suicidal H-bombs.

Mitchell Demotion

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: M. S. Daily asks: "Tell us why Dr. Mitchell must be demoted." That's easy. Dr. Mitchell has the right of every American to shoot off his mouth. But if he couldn't or wouldn't do the job of chairman and the university authorities decided to replace him, there is no reason why he shouldn't be relieved of administrative duties. He hasn't been fired as a professor.

Great Document

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: A widespread, deep-seated, and growing attack is being made on the Constitution of the United States.

The mischievous Bricker Amendment is one of the most dangerous and persistent. Mr. Eisenhower has said that passage of this amendment would make the management of foreign affairs by the President practically impossible.

We also have a full-blown campaign of hostility aimed at the Supreme Court of the United States. The Deep South is in full cry against the court because of the anti-segregation decision. Even Jimmy Byrnes, a one-time member of the court, joins the chorus. The oil and gas interests still hurt because of the court decision in the Tidelands case. An amendment is being formulated to clip the wings of our great court.

We might mention the well-financed and calculated campaign against the income tax amendment.

Now, we have had many amend-

DORIS FLESON

Radford Sees Reds In Cold War Lead

WASHINGTON — Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has lent his great prestige to those who contend that the Russians are beating the United States on the political and diplomatic fronts of the cold war.

The admiral expressed satisfaction with the country's military posture. He said that since 1950 we had generated a very great military strength which had prevented the spread of the Korean war and an attack on the United States. But he added:

"It is in the political and diplomatic field that we have to worry. The new Russian approach, their ability to talk sweet and disarm criticism, poses new problems for us in critical areas. There our troubles are greater than in the military field."

Answering a question by Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, he said he knew of no promise of aid to any nation made by the Soviet Union that it did not keep. He said he hoped the Russians would run into trouble as they expanded their promises, but he agreed with Humphrey that it would be an "unwise assumption" to suggest that they couldn't deliver on their commitments.

More reporters than spectators were in the caucus room when Foreign Relations Committee senators questioned the nation's top military man and his civilian boss, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson. At issue is the administration's expanded foreign aid bill of $4.9 billion.

BOB CONSIDINE

Side Concerns Stay Bomb Blast

ABOARD USS MT. MCKINLEY (Delayed)—More than 81,000 words of copy were sent from this communications ship in the first seven days of its occupancy by the 15 news media men assigned to cover the first disposable American H-bomb. Most of the stuff was sent by the nine newspapermen aboard, and all of it went at the average rate of 12 cents a word. Total cost $10,000.

It could have been said for 24 cents: "No bomb."

The little knot of men burdened with the task of deciding when a bomb can be touched off and when it cannot had to take many serious matters into consideration as the days and delays dragged on.

They knew of all the degrees of impatience around them. The crew of the McKinley, for example, had been promised they'd be back at their home base of San Diego for long shore leaves some weeks ago, then the ship was reassigned to this duty. The boys were promised that it would be a matter of a few days. Then there were the thousands of men working the barren and dusty coral islands; the construction crews, the scientists and technicians who set the supersensitive instrumentation that is flung over thousands of square miles of sea and coral. They wanted done with it, and so did the crew of the drop plane. And last but not least there was the matter of the news, radio and TV people recording each delay—which, no matter how discreetly phrased or photographed, probably caused millions of Americans to lose interest in an experiment directly involved with the survival of the free world.

On the other hand there were two factors which readily took precedence over impatience and growing indifference. These two factors were our relations with the Asiatic world and our allergy toward hurting even people whose cries we could censor if we were that type of power. A handful of Marshallese, for example.

There is no doubt that we lost face in Japan, India and elsewhere because of the unhappy events that followed the touching off of our surface H-shot March 1, 1954. Our people unquestionably took many more pains than the Russians take in their experiments, yet this device (it could not be called a bomb because it was not portable) probably yielded twice its expected power.

A wave of anti-American sentiment swept the Asiatic world, undoing the work of years and the expenditure of breathtaking sums of taxpayers' money. Russian propagandists had a field day, neglecting to mention, of course, that the Reds set off their own nuclear weapons with about as much concern for the wellbeing of people in the way of the radioactive cloud as they have for the athlete's foot situation in Lower Siberia.

Ultimate Winners

The experts have gathered in Chicago to talk about food preservation by irradiation—a matter of firing gamma rays into substances to kill or immobilize the forces of decay. The new practice has yet to solve all of its problems.

One of them is that of all the organisms man is the one most subject to damage while enzymes and bacteria which attend to the business of food spoilage are the least. In terms of "reps" the scientists' measuring unit of Roentgen equivalent physical—or gamma ray strength—it takes only 400 of them to prepare a man for the hereafter. It takes 25,000 of them to finish off an insect, 2,000,000 of them to drop a bacteria in its tracks. And it takes 8,000,000 or more to convince an enzyme that it ought to go out of business.

The present state of affairs is that it is possible to hit food hard enough to keep it indefinitely. The main trouble in that event is that there would be precious few people around to eat it.

The problem will get solved some way, but while the scientists are working on it, we non-scientists can reflect that if we get into an all-out H-bomb war, no one will win it but the insects, the bacteria and the enzymes.

Now We Shall See

One cannot help being stirred by the brave adventure of Wanderly Camargo. The 20-year-old Brazilian twice risked his life as a stow-away on an airliner and succeeded in getting to the United States.

In a second run of luck he encountered a sponsor, a California mother, a Brazilian herself, who took him under her wing and now he can remain in this country. He has a home and a job.

It will be interesting now to see what story the future will tell of this intrepid lad. Was he just engaged in an adventure? Did he seek escape from a poor order of life in order to broaden his horizons and increase his opportunities? If it was the latter, then truly he has risen far above the average in overcoming handicaps and will live as a glowing example. But if it was an adventure his story will go down as just another of many slightly more interesting than the mine run.

He's Finished

Gene Autry is going off the air. He and his singing cowpokes have been a household institution now for almost a generation. They will be greatly missed and his going was mighty unexpected. None of us realized how bad the cattle business has become under the present farm program. If a fellow like Autry can't make it, no one can.

Coe Swears 'Never A Spy'

... Ex-Federal Employee Won't Say Whether He's Communist

WASHINGTON (AP) — Virgil Frank Coe surprised the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Tuesday by casting aside his Fifth Amendment protection and swearing he never was a spy.

Coe, one of the former Treasury Department employees linked to Soviet espionage by Elizabeth Bentley, refused to say whether he is a Communist.

In doing that, he relied on Fifth Amendment protection after the subcommittee overruled his plea of the First Amendment's free speech guarantee.

When Coe last appeared before the subcommittee in 1952, he invoked Fifth Amendment protection and refused to say whether he was a member of a Soviet espionage ring. A few days later Coe was dismissed as secretary of the International Monetary Fund.

Coe told the subcommittee he now is anxious to answer all questions about espionage.

He accused the subcommittee of attempting "to keep alive the stale and discredited charges" of Miss Bentley, a self-described former courier for a Soviet spy ring.

"I wish to drop the protection of the Fifth Amendment and to state for the record: I was never a spy; I am convinced that Harry White was not a spy, and that any notion to the contrary is unthinkable, and I am also convinced that none of the other persons named by Miss Bentley were spies," Coe said.

Britain Sets Off Australia A-Blast

LONDON (Wednesday) — The Supply Ministry announced that an "atomic device was successfully exploded" today by British scientists in the Monte Bello Islands off west Australia.

The nature of the device was not disclosed. There had been reports it might be a type of "trigger" for a British hydrogen bomb test scheduled for late this year.

The Supply Ministry announcement said "scientific records are being collected for accurate evaluation" at the scene of today's test. It added that "all safety precautions are in operation."

Six Drowned

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Belgrade papers reported that six persons died in a river when a rafter, swollen by heavy rain in mid-February, swept away a house where last rites for a dead woman were being held. The woman's body also was swept away.

NPPS Seeks Support For Consolidation

The Nebraska Public Power System Tuesday asked the support of southeast Nebraska rural power districts for its projected consolidation.

The Lincoln conference was the third of a series in which NPPS acquainted one of its major customers — the REAs — with the details of the merger which would terminate the present association of the Platte Valley Power and Irrigation district and the Loup Public Power and Irrigation by contract, supplanting it with one all-inclusive district.

Earlier regional meetings of the same nature were held at Lexington and Fort Union. The Lincoln meeting included the Cornhusker, Butler county, Seward county, Eastern Nebraska, Polk and Norris Rural Electrification districts.

Dewey DeBoer, manager of the NPPS, asked the REAs for resolutions of approval.

He told them that full consolidation would make possible a more streamlined and economical management. It would improve NPPS' base for cheaper and more abundant credit, offer it an opportunity for a bigger share of the electric dollar and give firm assurance of the continuation of Nebraska electric service on terms of abundant, low cost power.

DeBoer was joined in advocating the consolidation by Jack Howell, president of the Loup district, Edd Kelly, manager of the Loup district and Gerald Gentleman, manager of the Platte Valley Power and Irrigation district.

Afro-Asia Bloc To Ask Special Assembly Meet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) — The influential Afro-Asian United Nations' bloc decided informally Tuesday to ask for a special session of the General Assembly on the question of Algeria.

Members of the group reached agreement at a private session to request their home governments for authority to request a special session of the 76-nation global forum.

The Algerian question was placed on the agenda of the 1955 Assembly but was withdrawn after the French delegation walked out of the session. France maintained the question is a domestic matter and outside U.N. jurisdiction.

At least 39 out of the 76 U.N. member states must agree to the summoning of a special assembly session before one can be convened.

Members of the bloc expressed confidence they can muster enough votes for a session despite anticipated bitter French opposition.

The Afro-Asian group maintains that U.N. action is required to stop the bloody fighting between Algerian rebels and French troops in the huge North African territory.

Feeling it as a fiddle, Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, column "Medical Roundup," appearing in The "Sunday Journal and Star," gives sound advice on how to keep healthy.

Annual 'Slet' For Sokols Set During June

CRETE, Neb. — Crete Sokols, both men and ladies' units, will be hosts to the gymnastic exhibition at Tuxedo Park, Crete, June 9 and 10.

Units from Crete, Wilber, Omaha, South Omaha and Cedar Rapids, Iowa, will participate in the athletic events.

Following the "Slet," meaning the flocking together of Sokols or "Falcons," a five-day course for trainers will also be held at Crete.

A parade and various gymnastic formations and exhibitions will be staged during the event. A social dance will also be held.

Simon Rokusek and Frank J. Kopecky, officers of the Western District with headquarters in Omaha have been in Crete conferring with local leaders and trainers on initial preparations for the event.

Vaccine Released

WASHINGTON (INS) — The government Tuesday released 2,662,305 doses of Salk polio vaccine for use by private doctors or in mass inoculation programs.

The vaccine, produced by the Eli Lilly Company of Indianapolis, makes a total of 56,431,038 doses released since the program began in the spring of 1953.

Mystery Of Missing Scotts One Of Deepest In Los Angeles History

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The puzzling case of the vanishing Scotts Tuesday took the place as one of the most intriguing police stories in this city's history.

Just a year ago Wednesday Mrs. Evelyn T. Scott, 63, a wealthy, attractive widow with a keen enjoyment of the social whirl, dropped from sight.

Tuesday her husband, L. Ewing Scott, 59, a tall, distinguished investment counselor, was listed officially as missing when he failed to appear for arraignment on charges connected with his wife's disappearance.

A manhunt spreading across the nation and into Mexico has been launched for Scott.

Although no one has seen Mrs. Scott for a year now, her disappearance did not come to public attention until two months ago when a document was filed in Superior Court.

It was a petition entered by Mrs. Scott's brother, E. Raymond Thorsby, asking that he be appointed trustee of his sister's estate, estimated at $400,000. Buried in the legal terminology was the kernel of mystery that has since sprouted so vigorously.

His sister's absence, said Thorsby, had not been satisfactorily explained by Scott.

Filing of the petition touched off an investigation that disclosed among other things, that Scott has offered several different explanations of what happened to his wife.

To police, he said that his wife was given to frequent and unexplained absences and that was why he did not become alarmed when she suddenly vanished from their $75,000 home on May 16, 1955, after sending him on a shopping trip.

State Employment Service Has Testing Program For Students Seeking Jobs

Lincoln area students who desire summer or permanent employment are being aided by the Lincoln office of the State Employment Service.

In connection with a nationwide program, using United States Department of Labor tests, the Lincoln office has administered tests to hundreds of interested students in the area.

The local program, working in conjunction with school counselors has reached 33 high schools in five counties.

Five Lincoln high schools have participated.

Employers Urged

Employers in the area are urged to participate in the program by consulting with the Employment Office and checking the results of tests given to student applicants.

According to Glenn H. Jones, manager of the Lincoln office, there is a definite trend among employers toward recognizing the value of these tests.

Some employers in the Lincoln area accept only test selected applicants, he said.

R. W. Kers of the Lincoln office is the supervisor of the local testing program.

A battery of general aptitude tests is administered to students to determine their abilities in relation to the selection of various vocations.

Other tests are given to girls wanting office or clerical employment.

According to Kers, any student interested in employment and any employer who wishes to obtain information concerning the program should contact him at the local office at 905 O.

Church Group To Hear New Yorker

A National Council of Churches official will address the annual meeting of the Lincoln Council of Churches Monday.

Dr. J. Quinter Miller of New York City, assistant general secretary for field operations of the NCC, will speak at 6:30 p.m. at First Plymouth Congregational Church. Election of officers and other business will follow the banquet.

Thirty-three Lincoln churches are members of the LCC and they are represented by 87 delegates. Dr. C. Van White is president of the council. The meeting will mark the first year under the leadership of an employed staff. The Rev. Correll H. Johnson, executive secretary, and Mrs. John Johnson, executive assistant, will be in the Nebraska council.

Gavle Rosenbaum, director of music at Lincoln's Asbury Methodist Church, will sing at the program.

Harriman Insists He's Still 'Inactive' Candidate

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Gov. Alfred Harriman of New York, acting very much like a candidate himself, insisted today that he was not a presidential nomination candidate.

Harriman arrived in Montana in a chartered plane and was greeted at the airport by banner-carrying Democrats who paraded him through town in a two-toned convertible plastered with "We Want Harriman" signs.

He stepped from the plane and read a brief statement he had written out in longhand in answer to published reports that he had announced he was "definitely a candidate" during a news conference at Missoula, Mont.

"I have made no announcement on this trip to change in any way my status as a candidate," he said. "On this trip, I have been making vigorous speeches in support of Democrats and in criticism of the Eisenhower Administration."

He Appreciates It

"All that has happened is that at Cody, Wyo., some delegates said they would join the New York delegation to support me at the convention. I said I appreciated that."

Asked if that didn't mean he was ending his self-described "inactive" role, Harriman insisted his status was unchanged. He put it this way:

"Six months ago the New York Democratic party decided to present my name to the national convention the same way it did in 1952."

Mother Remains On Serious List

OMAHA (AP) — Mrs. Louise Kramer, 36, mother of 13 burned in an explosion as she poured kerosene on a kitchen fire, remained on the serious list at University Hospital Tuesday.

Ag Chief Benson Sets '57 Wheat Allotment At 55 Million Acres

WASHINGTON (INS) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson Tuesday set the 1957 wheat crop national acreage allotment at 55 million acres—the legal minimum—and proposed a national marketing quota.

The quota would be subject to approval by eligible growers voting in a referendum on July 20.

If quotas are approved by two-thirds of the growers the support price for 1957-crop wheat will be available at the full rate in 36 major wheat-producing states to producers who keep within their allotments and quotas.

The support rate for the 1957 crop has not yet been announced. For the 1956 crop, the current minimum national support price is two dollars a bushel, or 83.7 per cent of parity.

If quotas are not approved in the July 20 referendum, the price support level will be set by law at 50 per cent of parity for growers who remain within their allotments. Approval is anticipated however.

1,954 Million Bushels

Official estimates are that the wheat supply for the 1956-57 marketing year, starting next July 1, will total 1,954 million bushels. This is 814 million bushels greater than the nation's "normal supply" or enough to cover a year's domestic and export disappearance.

plus a 20 per cent allowance for reserves.

State allotments for the 1957 wheat crop will be set soon, when the "non-commercial wheat states" allotments for 1957 will also be announced.

In the present twelve non-commercial states, where allotments and quotas do not operate, price support rates are at 75 per cent of the level available in the commercial area.

Marketing quotas have been approved by the nation's wheat growers for the last three crops.

In Tuesday's announcement, Benson said "This marks the fourth successive year that abnormally large wheat supplies have required the proclamation of marketing quotas for the next wheat crop."

Minimum

"The plain fact is that, in spite of valiant attempts to channel more wheat into exports, we will still have enough wheat for the marketing year beginning July 1, 1956, to take care of all our domestic and export needs for more than two full years."

"The carryover, again, will exceed a billion bushels. Production is still so large that it practically equals an entire year's wheat disappearance."

While we are hopeful that holding down the carryover into 1957-58, wheat continues as one of the most serious problems in the whole farm economy."

Californian Pleads Guilt In Forgery

Harvey J. Couey, 32, of Modesto, Calif., pleaded guilty Tuesday in Lancaster District Court to a forgery charge.

Couey was charged with forging a $70.56 check Monday on the First National Bank in Lincoln with the attached name of "Kenneth Schaefer."

Detectives George Hansen and Robert Sawdon apprehended Couey in the basement of a Lincoln department store after he had drawn a switch-knife and threatened two floor walkers who attempted to stop him after he had tried to cash the forged check, the officers said.

Authorities reported Couey admitted cashing four checks at Grand Island while enroute to Lincoln from Denver. Couey has served three prison terms, they said.

World's most popular POWER STEERING?

Right this way!

EVERY YEAR, more and more of the new cars sold are equipped with Power Steering. Many a man has bought it "for the wife"—then wondered how he ever got along without it.

And if you have in mind a new car with this increasingly popular feature, you ought to consider this fact:

Since the beginning of last year, Buick has sold far more new cars equipped with Power Steering* than any other car—over 20,000 more in 1955 alone.

That's the record—and the reasons for it are just as impressive.

Buick brings you In-Line Safety Power Steering. In addition to the one-finger ease of turning common to all such systems in varying degree, it has several distinct advantages.

It gives you surer, steadier, safer control at highway speeds—because it retains that good natural "feel" of the road. (That's something you really should compare.)

On the other hand, it gives you more power assist when you need it most—at crawl speeds and at full stop. For parking and other tight maneuvering, Buick's Power Steering makes wheel turning nearly twice as easy as other types of systems. (And that's by engineering computation.)

Add another plus: this Buick feature works through the new Buick front end—where a unique new geometry and steering linkage bring a sweet new response and a wonderfully easy handling and a surer "sense of direction" even to new Buicks not equipped with the power system.

So there you are—and here we are, waiting to prove it all to you.

Waiting, also, to let you try the new thrills to be had in Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo®—where getaway response and gas mileage both step up even before you switch the pitch.

And waiting to show you how the highest power yet, the sweetest ride yet and the boldest styling yet—all help to make this bright new beauty the Best Buick Yet.

Today is fine with us. How about you?

*Buick's In-Line Safety Power Steering is standard on Roadmaster and Super, optional at moderate extra cost on other Buicks.
